

Looking Over Kingston's New Charter Proposals

The following series of articles will present in complete form the Proposed City Charter as developed by the Charter Revision Committee.

For a number of months a charter commission composed of Aldermen John Schwenk, Paul Zucca, Jacob H. Tremper, Jr., and Joseph Epstein, together with Jay Terry, president of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association, William B. Byrne, Walter E. Joyce, Corporation Counsel M. V. Cahill and Mayor C. J. Heiselman, has been writing a plan to modernize the city government and do away with much of the alleged inefficiency that exists at present under the board system. The results of the commission efforts will be found in the following series of articles, of which this is the fourth.

Barbers Fail to Agree On a Plan to Regulate Their Trade in This City

Attorneys Engaged By Opposing Factions Present Their Cases at Public Hearing Held on Proposed Ordinance.

MAY COMPROMISE

Opponents of the Original Petition Numbered 61, While 51 Signed Papers Favoring Ordinance.

The proposed ordinance submitted at a recent meeting of the Common Council by 51 of the city's barbers was opposed by 61 barbers when a public hearing on the proposed ordinance was held by the laws and rules committee of the council Thursday evening in the city hall. It was brought out during the hearing that many of the barbers had signed both petitions, for and against the ordinance. Both those in favor and those opposed to the adoption of the ordinance had engaged lawyers to argue for and against the ordinance. The opposing faction was represented by Attorney Chris J. Flanagan, while Attorney Andrew J. Cook appeared for those in favor of the adoption of the ordinance. At the close of the hearing Alderman Frank J. Leirey, chairman of the laws and rules committee, announced that the committee would give the matter thought before submitting a report to the Common Council.

Attorney Flanagan, who appeared for the barbers opposed to the ordinance, picked what he said were a number of flaws in the ordinance. He said that the ordinance provided for the naming of a board to have control of the barbering business and that two members would be master barbers and two journeymen barbers, and the members must have had experience at their trade for at least five years. In the barber business, said Mr. Flanagan, there was plenty of competition and some degree of jealousy. This board to be appointed under the provisions of the ordinance would have the power to enforce rules and regulations, but the real purpose if any was to have the city authorities regulate the business. Mr. Flanagan called attention to section 4 of the ordinance which set forth that a man to become a barber must give evidence of good moral character and a doctor's certificate that his health was good.

"When I sit down in a barber's chair," said Mr. Flanagan, "if he gives me a good job I don't care what his character is or what people say about him. I go to the shop to get a shave and haven't got the time to discuss the moral character of the man who is doing the job."

Mr. Flanagan called attention to the provisions that requires those who desire to have a barber's license that they must submit to an examination. Mr. Flanagan said it was going too far and asking too much to expect men who have practiced barbering in Kingston for 10, 20 and more years to take an examination. "Why it is ridiculous," said he.

Says "Joker" in Ordinance. The "joker" in section 4, he said was the last line which provided that the license shall be issued by the city clerk, but the said license is to be countersigned by the secretary of the Journeymen's barber local of the city. "Some one is looking for some power or may be looking to settle some old grievance," said Mr. Flanagan.

Another provision that he objected to and which he said was unconstitutional was the one that provided that those engaged in the trade must have at least three years practical experience in barbering in the city of Kingston before they could be granted a license. Under this provision he said that no person who resided without the city could obtain a license without first spending three years at the trade within the city. This provision would also prohibit any one from coming in and purchasing a barber shop.

The day of the unsanitary barber shop is passed, said Mr. Flanagan. He said that the barber of today was an intelligent man and knew that sanitary steps must be taken to keep his shop modern and up to the minute.

Another provision attacked by Mr. Flanagan was the one which gives the mayor of the city the power to revoke a license upon the producing of legal proof of violations of the ordinance. Mr. Flanagan said this was a power no mayor would relinquish.

Why They Signed Twice

Mr. Flanagan said that a great many whose names appear on the opposing petition had also signed the original petition but had done so without being thoroughly acquainted with all the facts and circumstances contained in the ordinance. He said it was probably the desire of 75 per cent of the master and journeymen barbers that the ordinance be rejected.

Arace Makes Prophecy

Leo Arace, who said he was a busy barber, said he was absolutely opposed to the ordinance. He said that there were a "lot of downtown shops which are charging lower prices which favor the ordinance," and "as an honest citizen of the city I went out and got 61 signatures against the ordinance. If this ordinance is adopted it will put 25 or 30 barbers on the relief."

Donald B. McMillan Is Wed to Miss Miriam Look

PATERSON, N. J., March 29 (AP).—Commander Donald B. McMillan, Arctic explorer, announced last night his secret marriage to his secretary, Miss Miriam Look, of Boston.

Commander McMillan, who made his first trip to the North with Admiral Peary on the expedition that resulted in the discovery of the North Pole 27 years ago, said the marriage climaxed a romance of several years.

He declined to name the exact date or place of the wedding, which took place during a lecture trip.

The former Miss Look is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Look, who was chief engineer of the Ashokan reservoir project, and resided in Kingston while the work of building the reservoir was underway, and while residing here Miss Look attended the Kingston High School. The family removed from Kingston to the state of Maine.

Home Garden Project Is Approved by TERA For City This Year

The State TERA Approves Project Which Proved Successful Here Last Summer—Roy Jacobs to be Supervisor Again in Charge of Relief Gardens.

The local emergency relief bureau has received word that the State TERA has approved a home garden project for Kingston. This project proved very successful last year and there were a number of gardens made by those on the relief rolls.

The Kingston Lumber Company has again granted the ERLB the use of lands in the rear of the plant, where gardens were made last summer. This land contains sufficient area for the establishing of 175 municipal gardens and in addition there is planned 350 home gardens.

The ERLB already has 16,500 pounds of seed potatoes ready for distribution to the home gardeners, and the work of making gardens will be started as soon as weather conditions warrant.

Roy Jacobs, who supervised the garden project last summer, has again been named to supervise the project this year.

Those interested in having a garden should register at the ERLB office as quickly as possible so that land can be assigned.

Under the provisions of the project of those who have a garden and do not take proper care of it the supervisor has the authority to assign the garden to another relief case.

Action on Relief Bill Delayed By Objections From Administration

Further Congressional Action on Work-Relief Measure Off Until Next Week in the Hope It Can Be Modified.

PREDICTS APPROVAL

Speaker Byrnes Believes House Will Approve The Report on the Controversial Bill.

Washington, March 29 (AP).—Vigorous objections from administration officials to the final form of the $4,800,000,000 work-relief bill today were reported to have delayed further Congressional action on the measure until next week in the hope that it can be modified.

The leader who made this disclosure declined to go into detail, and asked that newspapermen refrain from using his name. But as he talked Secretary Wallace was in conference with Chairman Buchanan of the House appropriations committee. Wallace had objected openly to the measure until next week in the hope that it can be modified.

Senator George (D., Ga.) made a bitter assault in the Senate yesterday upon Wallace for stating his opposition publicly. In reply, Wallace sent a letter to Buchanan explaining his position, but Buchanan had not made the letter public.

The understanding was that House leaders would attempt to reopen the conference in the hope of eliminating the provisions which were obnoxious to administration officials.

Speaker Byrnes stated that House action on the bill was expected to be taken up before Monday.

Piled with questions at his press conference as to the reason for the delay, Byrnes pointed to Chairman Buchanan of the appropriations committee, sitting on a nearby leather lounge, and remarked:

"Ask him."

"Just because it ain't," was Buchanan's explanation why the vote would not be taken today.

Then he added that for such an important measure House members ought to have ample time to study the conference report. He grinned broadly.

Byrnes said, however, he did not think there "is any shadow of a doubt" but that the House will approve the report on the controversial bill.

Eden And Stalin Discuss Plan To Draw the U. S. Into A Far Eastern Agreement

Big Merchandising Contest Here Is Drawing to a Close

The big merchandising contest which has been under way in Kingston for some six weeks past is drawing to a close and unprecedented activity on the part of contestants and their friends is looked for during the last two days of this week.

For some time there has been a see-saw race between Bill Newkirk and the Knights of Columbus for the top prize of $500. In Thursday's report the Knights led by 111,282 votes, but it is rumored that both contestants have friends who are holding purchases in reserve and there is no telling what the final result will be when the votes are counted Saturday night.

Another interesting contest is that between the Kingston Y. W. C. A., which was in second place among the organizations Thursday and the West Hurley M. E. Church, which stood third, but less than 3,000 votes separating the two.

Today and Friday the 21 merchants participating in the campaign are being permitted to offer extra votes for purchases and money paid on old accounts.

The merchants are given permission to offer eight special bargains, at not to exceed $25 each in value, for which double votes will be allowed. They may also offer eight specials, valued at from $25 to $50 each, for which triple votes will be allowed; and five specials, valued at from $50 to $150 each, on which double votes will be allowed.

On old store accounts (accounts due before January 1, 1935), paid today or Saturday, triple votes will be allowed.

The contest will close at 8:45 Saturday night and no sales made after that hour will count in the contest. The votes will be collected immediately from the 21 stores in the contest and counted. It will probably be around ten o'clock Saturday night before the final result will be known.

As soon as the winners have been determined the result will be announced from the Rose & Gorman store, on North Front street.

Pact Would Include Britain, Russia, Japan, China, France and America, But More Definite Proposals Not Revealed.

TRADE IS TOPIC

Saturday's Conversations Will Center About Anglo-Soviet Commercial Relations.

By JOHN LLOYD

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)

Moscow, March 29.—With a plan for United States' collaboration with other powers in the Far East reportedly under discussion, Capt. Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, faced Joseph Stalin, Soviet chief, in the latter's private office in the Kremlin today.

A high source said that Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, had suggested to Eden the formulation of a Far Eastern pact to include the United States, Great Britain, Russia, Japan, China, and France, and that Stalin, too, supported this suggestion.

The British envoy was accompanied into Stalin's presence by Lord Chilton, the British ambassador to Russia. There they encountered Vyacheslav Molotov, president of the Union Council of People's Commissars, Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, and Ivan Malsky, the Russian ambassador to London.

They immediately began, with the aid of interpreters, the discussion of the European situation. Captain Eden and the ambassador entered the Kremlin enclosure in an automobile, driving through the main entrance of the wall—the Borovitskiye Gate—on the side opposite from Lenin's tomb, riding directly to the wing of the court building where Stalin has his office.

Noted Improvement Soviet circles said today after an hour and a half conference between Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, and Capt. Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal, that there was a "noted improvement" in both the political and economic relations between Soviet Russia and Great Britain.

The Soviet sources did not indicate on what grounds the further improvement of the Anglo-Russian relations was based during the discussion as Eden probed into the possibilities of peace for Europe. The two talked over "most of the outstanding problems in political relations," they stated, and the discussion was conducted with "the same spirit of frankness and sincerity" as yesterday's.

It was pointed out that after yesterday's talk it was said that the statesmen found no points of disagreement although it was likewise understood no definite proposals were then presented by either party. Whether proposals bearing plans for joint action for the guarantee of European peace were placed on the table today was not mentioned.

Capt. Eden was received in audience this afternoon by Joseph Stalin, secretary general of the political bureau, accompanied by Litvinoff. In Stalin's office inside the walled Kremlin, former palace of the czars, where now hangs a dominating picture of the German Communist, Karl Marx, they discussed the developing European situation.

In the conversation slated with Litvinoff tomorrow, Eden will discuss the development of British-Soviet trade relations.

The question of Soviet propaganda in England has not been raised during the discussions, an authorized Russian spokesman said in response to a question.

Both British and Russians say conferences are being conducted in the light of "clarifications" obtained by Sir John Simon, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, and Eden in their recent Berlin talks with Hitler.

British spokesmen say further that the London peace plan is still the basis of discussions and the Russians mention "conclusions" to which the Berlin clarifications are leading.

Every's Car Struck Parked Car and Then Crashed Into Store

Was Driving Pontiac Roadster Down Broadway When He Struck Parked Car Near Liberty Street, Damaging It and Then Ran Up on Sidewalk Into Store Building.

Courtney Every, who gave his address as the local Y. M. C. A., is in the Kingston Hospital under the care of Dr. William S. Bush, and his Pontiac roadster is parked in the rear of the city hall, badly damaged as the result of running into the parked car of Angelo Fiorino of 715 Broadway, and then running up on the sidewalk and into the building owned by H. S. Brigham, and occupied as a picture framing establishment by W. S. Ross, early this morning.

According to the police record made when Mr. Every called at police headquarters before entering the hospital he was driving south on Broadway and when near Liberty street his car, which carries a dealer's license plates, ran into the car of Angelo Fiorino parked in front of 715 Broadway, near Liberty street.

After hitting the parked car and damaging it the Every car ran up on the sidewalk, just missing a telephone pole at the curb and crashed into the upper end of the two-story frame building at the corner of Liberty and Broadway.

The building was badly damaged, and one of the large plate glass windows shattered.

Mr. Every's car was also badly damaged from the force of the impact. He informed the police that he carried insurance and would make good all damage.

The crash occurred about 4:50 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. G. F. Rice Died Here on Thursday

Identified with Vital Interests of Community and Was President Emeritus of Y. W. C. A.—Private Funeral on Saturday Afternoon.

The news of the death of Mrs. Jessie E. Rice, widow of Dr. George F. Rice of this city, at her home on Downs street about noon of Thursday, came with a sense of shock and grievous personal loss to hundreds of homes in this city and to the community at large.

Though Mrs. Rice had been ill since the fall, the news of her death was most unexpected to all but a few intimate friends. The loss of Mrs. Rice's personal influence in the community comes as a double loss because of her love of and inspiration to the host of young girls with the most of their future before them, our womanhood of tomorrow, to whom she had endeared herself.

Coming to Kingston some 27 years ago, Mrs. Rice at once identified herself with the vital interests of the community, working with the Red Cross and becoming a member of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs of the city. She was actively engaged in Red Cross work during the World War.

Mrs. Rice was a member of Sorosis, later its president, and was also the president for two terms of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs. It was in her role of president of the larger women's organization that Mrs. Rice showed marked executive ability.

When the movement was set on foot by the Federation under her presidency to organize a Young Women's Christian Association in the community, in 1924, Mrs. Rice worked indefatigably to help bring into being this organization which was so much desired by the girls of Kingston, themselves. With the creating of the Kingston Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Rice was made the first president and entered upon a work of inestimable value for good for its day and the future in our community. During all of these years, Mrs. Rice has been the loved and honored president, with the exception of one year which was made necessary according to the constitution of the organization. Because of her serious illness this fall, she was re-elected as president emeritus, Mrs. George Newton Wood being chosen the president.

In this work which she loved wholeheartedly, Mrs. Rice grew to the stature of a woman of marked distinction. Possessed of a judicious mind, Mrs. Rice kept in perfect balance the religious and secular interests of the Y. W., always stressing the spiritual side of the Young Women's Christian Association.

A woman of deep spirituality and firmness of conviction, her whole personality radiated faith, courage, and loving understanding of the thousands of girls and young women who became associated with the Y. W. C. A.

Those who were privileged to attend the get-together suppers of the Y. W. C. A. money raising campaigns were fascinated and inspired by the perfect poise, the graciousness, the executive ability, and the spiritual inwardness of the leader of the campaigns, which were never allowed to descend to the level of money raising gatherings, but rather were lifted to the high level of an opportunity for service in a marvelous cause for the uplifting and strengthening of the present and future womanhood of the city. A careful and wise financier, Mrs. Rice saw to it that the organization made good from year to year, materially, by living within its budget and spiritually by creating an almost unbelievable spirit of comradeship among the girlhood of the entire community.

As the presiding officer of the campaigns, her quick and keen tact and happy spirit will always be remembered as perfect.

Withal, Mrs. Rice was a merry person, and entered with the heart of a girl into every activity of the thousands of girls who came under her beautiful influence. Wherever possible she fostered carefully that initiative shown by the girls in the original, self-expressed and amazingly clever entertainments which they could present almost extemporaneously and with little or no expense. In fact there seems no facet of light in all of the life of the Kingston Young Women's Christian Association that her life and spirit did not rarely illuminate.

Radiating a spirit of truly loving Christlikeness, Mrs. Rice won the love of all who knew her in the entire community, and her death is a community bereavement such as we have seldom known. If it seems to those whom she has left, that she worked for her beloved Y. W. beyond her strength, it never seemed so to Mrs. Rice and she has gone on in the fullness of an inestimably rich life.

The funeral will be private, but this evening between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m., the friends of Mrs. Rice may bid farewell to her at her home, No. 66 Downs street. The funeral service will be on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Frank H. Neal, pastor of St. James M. E. Church, of which Mrs. Rice was a member officiating. The burial will be in Montrose cemetery.

Mrs. Rice is survived by one daughter, Miss Elsie M. Rice; three sisters, Miss Bella Tetley of this city; Mrs. E. J. Stott and Mrs. William Stott, and one brother, Joseph Tetley.

Votes For Old Bills.

The Rose and Gorman store advertisement Thursday should have stated regarding the Kingston merchandising contest that all unpaid bills contracted prior to January 1, if paid before Saturday night, would count for triple votes, instead of the explanation given.

South Is Searched For Desperado Hamilton After Day of Terror

Jackson, Miss., March 29 (AP)—Sheriff's posse and state troopers today pursued two gun-toting desperadoes—one believed to be Raymond Hamilton, the southwest's No. 1 bad man—who terrorized South Mississippi yesterday with shootings, kidnappings and bank robbery.

Two persons were wounded, others were kidnapped, and harassed peace officers engaged in sporadic gun battles as the pair careened all day in an automobile over a zig-zag course within a radius of 50 miles of Prentiss.

They were believed today still within the locality of Prentiss, where they had held up the Bank of Bluntville and escaped with $1,100 after locking five persons in the vault.

Deputy Sheriff W. J. Lee of Jefferson Davis county, who swapped shots with them at one stage of the chase, said he had tentatively identified one of the men as Hamilton, fugitive from a Texas penitentiary.

Two Still Missing
Two of the persons kidnapped were still unaccounted for. They were M. E. Smith, Jefferson Davis county farm agent, and Ralph Ballis of Prentiss.

The others were released or escaped during the spectacular race over county highways. Mrs. Smith, almost in hysterics, said she had received no word from her husband since his abduction.

Smith and Ballis, members of a posse of 15—all of whom were overpowered by the pair—were taken as hostages. Smith's car was commandeered and Smith forced along as driver.

Gov. Sennett Conner ordered the National Guard mobilized late yesterday after the two bandits, using a sheriff and three other persons as shields, surprised the posse 12 miles north of Prentiss and disarmed them.

100 Guardsmen Called
About 100 Guardsmen were summoned at Jackson, but all except 10 of them were sent home at midnight.

Adjutant-General Thomas L. Grayson said they could be recalled at an hour's notice.

The adjutant-general said he was informed the men were last seen at 5:30 p. m. yesterday turning off into a gravel road three miles west of Georgetown, in Copiah county.

Deputy Sheriff Lee said Sheriff Ennis Crawford of Covington county, who was kidnapped by the bandits, was slightly wounded in the head during a shooting skirmish. The sheriff escaped during one of the gun battles.

Woman Wounded
Mrs. Rodney Pol of near Prentiss was shot through the left arm when her father-in-law, J. T. Pol, opened fire on the bandits as they attempted to commandeer his automobile.

One of the bandits was believed wounded in the face by a charge of squirrel shot from Pol's gun.

Deputy Sheriff Lee reported the arrest of three women, caught running across a field near Prentiss. He expressed the belief one of them drove the car in which the men escaped after the bank raid.

The outlaws were reported to have changed cars at least six times during the day.

Hamilton, once chief lieutenant for Clyde Barrow, and successor to Barrow as the No. 1 desperado of the southwest, was a specialist in bank robberies.

Barrow and his cigar-smoking gun-toting companion, Bonnie Parker, were killed by officers in Louisiana last year.

The pair had aided Hamilton in his break from the Eastham, Tex., prison farm January 16, 1934, in which a guard was killed.

Hamilton was recaptured and sentenced to death but escaped from the Huntsville prison last July 22.

Holstein Club Plans Program

The Ulster County Holstein breeders have arranged an unusually interesting program at a banquet to be held at the New Paltz Grange hall on Friday evening, April 15. Breeders of both purebred and grade Holsteins are invited with their families to attend the banquet according to Jesse Dero, president of the Ulster County Holstein Club.

C. H. Baldwin, former commissioner of agriculture and markets, considered one of the agricultural leaders in the State of New York and for years a champion for cooperative dairy programs in the state, will speak at a banquet. His subject will be "The Dairyman's Problems from a Cooperative Standpoint." All Ulster County 4-H Club members have been invited as guests of the club.

Round Towers of Ireland
The Round Towers in Ireland are of stone, usually from 13 to 20 feet in external diameter at base and ranging from 60 to 100 feet in height. One may be described as follows: The top to central, the interior is divided into six or seven stories reached by ladders from one to the other. Each story is lighted by one window, the top story usually has four. The door is placed ten or more feet from the ground and is reached by a ladder. The doors and windows have sloping jambs.

Weight of Crinoline
For 400 crinolines 1,000 pounds is about the maximum weight. The crinoline carried by the actress in the picture shown here weighed over 1,000 pounds, the greatest weight ever recorded for a crinoline. At Coney Island, N. Y., a crinoline dress for 18 years which was so fat she could hardly stand towards the end of his life. His actual weight was 3,150 pounds, although before he was weighed he was credited with under that weight.

ERS VAUDEVILLE SHOW LAST NIGHT PLEASED BIG CROWD

There was another large attendance Thursday evening at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium when a vaudeville show was produced under the auspices of the local ERS. The acts were furnished by the drama department of the state TERA. All of the acts were good and made a hit with the crowd. The next attraction to be booked is the play "The First Night," to be presented early in April at the auditorium.

Corrections in the U. P. A. Ad.

In the advertisement of the U. P. A. Thursday, the quotation on Campbell's tomato soup, 2 cans for 15 cents and apple sauce should have been advertised as number 2 cans, 10 cents instead of two cans for that price.

CAPITAL NEWS

HOLLISTER STURGES, Jr.

Albany, March 29 (Special)—Joint resolutions were filed yesterday by the two legislative houses to permit a referendum in the fall for another bond issue by the state, the money to be used solely for unemployment relief purposes. It is for the staggering sum of $55,000,000. Governor Lehman made the recommendation in view of the fact that present funds are nearly exhausted. These bonds, which will be voted upon for authorization next November, are to mature in ten years. Others that have been issued are to mature in a longer period of time. This is the biggest bond issue ever made for this purpose in the state.

Triple Birthdays.

The boys made great sport over a trio of natal occasions. Governor Lehman, Senator D. T. O'Brien, and Assemblyman Meyer Alterman had birthdays yesterday. The Senator bought the first round of customary smokes. A resolution was then read congratulating His Excellency and wishing him good health, with a stipulation that the ban on smoking in the senate chamber be raised. Lieutenant Governor William Bray joined in with the funsters and appointed a committee of six to wait upon the governor and report forthwith. His appointees were McNaboe and Quinn, both Democrats who have been at odds all week. Baldwin and Mandelbaum, who that morning fought desperately over the New York city power plant "joker bill", Ross, only Democrat to oppose the reapportionment measures; and N. A. O'Brien, youngest state senator. With this "gang" marching into the executive chamber the governor surely must have smiled. In a few moments five of them hiked back, led by Mr. Ross, an extended arm on the other's shoulder as they marched single file into the chamber, and executed a squads left on the center aisle. Bray asked what had happened to the sixth member. It was McNaboe who was missing, but he was not long in returning, creating quite an effect as he came in alone. He explained his tardiness by the fact that he had instructed the governor to send up Corona Coronas. The lieutenant governor commented that he hoped the governor's cigars would be better than those previously handed out by 40-year-old N. A. O'Brien. Mr. Lehman, who received telegrams from all over the state, is now 57 years old.

Another Tiff

Several weeks ago Speaker Steingut and Minority Leader Ives had a little argument in the assembly chamber. They had another yesterday. Ives stated that he thought the $55,000,000 bond issue demanded a Republican conference, although he had promised to go along with it. He was charged by the speaker that he had asserted his party would endorse the scheme, whereupon Ives replied that in so saying he was speaking only for himself and not for the other Republican members who under such circumstances this would not be binding to them. The speaker did not like this arrangement. The ultimate outcome will take place when the resolution is reported back from the rules committee and the Republicans vote for or against it. They will probably all be for it, however.

Hopes Diminish

By adoption of both houses to extend the life of the committee charged with getting in the congressional reapportionment bills, the hope for adjournment was set back for another week at least. Louis A. Cuvillier, veteran of the Democratic party, believed that the session should adjourn without passing the reapportionment bills as expectancy for their realization is still weak. If this is done a special session may be called this summer so that this can be accomplished. By this time the ruling powers can get all pending difficulties leisurely straightened out.

Red Books

Ten thousand copies of the Red Book, official publication containing all state data, are being ordered. Each senator will be given 50, and each assemblyman 40. Arthur Swartz, of Erie county, wants more than 40, because he is from such a large county. But he has been refused. Their cost will be $7,500.

Public Power Plant

Heated words flew thick and fast in the senate yesterday between Joseph Clark Baldwin III, lone New York Republican, and Samuel Mandelbaum, Democrat from this city and chairman of affairs of New York city, as they resumed their debate on Mayor F. H. LaGuardia's "joker" bill to give New York the right to establish its own municipal power plant to light municipal buildings. The clash came upon the principle of referendum on such a matter. Baldwin held that referendum was not necessary in this particular instance, and that while his mayor was not afraid of such endorsement it was only a waste of time. Mandelbaum refused to concede this belief and held out for referendum. Minority Leader George R. Fearon summed the situation up when he voted by saying, "My heart tells me to vote for the Baldwin amendment, but my conscience tells me no." He was recorded in the negative. Baldwin received only six votes for his supplementary bill.

Little Progress

The legislators did not accomplish a great deal yesterday in the way of law-making. The Assembly, tired from its 12th week, decided to adjourn early in respect to the Governor, who was celebrating a birthday. But his celebration was a full day in the office. The upper house put most of its heavy calendar over until next week, and passed upon non-controversial bills only. This was so that certain members would be free to attend the public utility hearing that had to be postponed from last week because of a crammed program.

Wires

There are two telegraph booths in the capitol that handle most of the news and all messages that come to the capitol or state office building. Over 50,000 such messages have been sent from here since the opening of the session. Some days as many as 1,000 pour in and go out.

The New Courthouse

First county to officially register its protest against construction of a $800,000 courthouse for the third judicial district is Rensselaer county, whose board of supervisors' chairman informed Senator Ogden J. Ross that the needed taxes for such a structure were not to be levied at such a time and that this whole idea was not approved by them. Senator Ross, when voting to advance the bill on Wednesday did so with reservation. Now when this comes up for third reading he will reverse his vote. Over the week-end other representatives will have an opportunity to confer with local leaders and find out what action they are to take.

Monkey of the Snow Is

Native of Central Asia

A specimen of one of the world's strangest animals, the kin-tsen-heou, or "monkey of the snow," from the mountains of central Asia, is shown by the Smithsonian Institution. This is one of the rarest of all mammals in scientific collections, says the Smithsonian Institute Bulletin.

This creature, whose scientific name is Rhinopithecus, has an ogre-like, short face, ranging in color from green to turquoise, in which are set very large, bulging eyes and a pointed, upturned nose. Surrounding the face is a fringe or beard of orange hair. The rest of the body is covered with hair six or seven inches long and varying in color from gold to silver. The monkey lives in the bamboo forests, just below the line of perpetual snows. It was first discovered more than sixty years ago by the famous French priest-naturalist, Pere David, who was told that it frequented the high mountain forests in vast troops. These troops made up of animals about the size of shepherd dogs, spend almost all their time in the trees, living on fruits and tender shoots of bamboo.

The monkey is a close relative of the Hoonuman monkey of India, one of the sacred animals of that country. Such an animal is believed to contain the soul of a dead human being. Something of the same sacred character, it is said, pertains to its ogre-like relative of the high mountains.

Only Larval Stage Moth

Destroys Your Clothing

"The instinct that makes us all pursue a flying moth is probably so deeply ingrained that we are not likely to sit still and ignore it even on learning that, in this stage of its life cycle, the moth is incapable of feeding," Dr. Claude Lillington says in an article on the clothes moth in Hygeia, the Health Magazine. "It is in the maggot, or larval, stage that the moth destroys our clothes, furs and feathers. There is another reason for regarding the moth in flight as a comparatively harmless creature. It is almost invariably a male."

"It may be argued, of course, that killing the male must break an essential link in the chain that constitutes the life cycle of the moth, were it not that the female moth is not strictly monogamous. . . . With two males to every female, the housewife is not likely to solve her moth problem by running after an isolated male here and there."

Typical Willow-ware

The typical willow pattern on china-ware shows a house near a river on which there is a boat; there is an orange tree beyond the house, which is enclosed on the land side by a wall and fence. There is a bridge, with a willow tree on one end and the gardener's cottage at the other; in the upper left is an island with a cottage. Two turtles are conspicuous in the design. The large house was the home of a mandarin, whose daughter loved his former secretary and often met him under the orange tree. Forbidden to marry, they eloped first to the gardener's cottage, later to the island cottage where they lived many years. A former lover of the girl discovered them and set fire to the cottage, whereupon the two were transformed into turtles. The legend has not been traced back farther than 1842, when it appeared in an English magazine, and there is no proof that it is of Chinese origin.

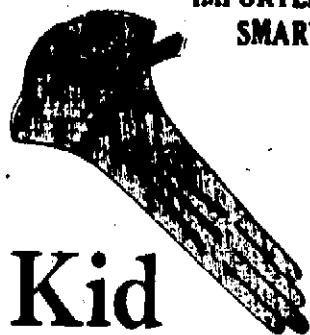

Carrot Planting

Plant carrot seeds thickly, 15 or 20 to the foot and cover with a half-inch of light soil or a fourth-inch of heavy. Thin to 2 or 2 1/2 inches apart as soon as they are large enough to handle. One-fourth ounce of seed will be sufficient for a 50-foot row in the spring and a second planting for autumn use. Orbsart, Chantamway and Danvers Half-Long are common varieties.

ENLARGEMENTS

Suitable for framing, of the "Nightmare" scene. First Dutch Reformed Church, may be had at PENNINGTON'S STUDIO 72 MAIN STREET.

ROADSIDE PATHS

A community in Ohio is building a cinder path beside a dirt road for a seven-year-old boy to use every day in his trek between home and the school bus which comes along the main road half a mile from his home. There was much argument before this plan was agreed upon. The school authorities had said it was dangerous to have the school bus drive down the narrow, ditched dirt road on which the boy lives. The father had said he would not permit his boy to risk his life walking along that road because of traffic perils.

Truant officers, a juvenile court judge and the father held a conference. From it came the double plan to have the father walk with his son to the bus stop while the town lays a path alongside the road. When it is done, the boy will use it.

Footpaths or sidewalks along highways have been the subject of much discussion and agitation for a long time. Many people think some of the gasoline tax road funds should be used for safety paths as well as for the main paving job. The building of such walks is now being accomplished in some places as part of state work-relief projects. Whatever the method, the work should be pushed as rapidly as possible along existing highways. In future highway construction, if communities are wise, the sidewalks will be figured in on the original job and will be built right along with the new highways.

MUSTACHES AND HATS

It's the little things of life that count. So the dictatorial government in Cuba seems to think, anyway. It has just dealt with two trifles in a big way. The first is the "Hitler mustache." This petty atrocity is outlawed as an emblem of Nazism and therefore dangerous in its spread among students and Fascist organizations. Anyone caught with such a disfigurement on his upper lip will be regarded as a public enemy and treated accordingly.

There will be widespread approval of such action, even though Hitler is not the man primarily responsible for the offense. Charlie Chaplin created that blot on masculine beauty, and it is the only thing the world holds against him.

The Cuban government is serious about hats, too. Or rather, about the lack of them. The hatless fashion has been making headway in Havana. Anyone going around bareheaded from now on will be locked up or beaten. This offense is connected in the governmental mind with Communism. It hasn't occurred to our own public authorities that all our hatless boys and men were flaunting red principles, even when their hair was red. We have imagined, in our innocence, that they were just being American.

SPANK 'EM

"More dangerous than was Dilinger, perhaps, are these teachers and writers who are telling parents they must never spank their children," says Garry C. Myers, a mid-western college professor, writing in the Forum. He takes a fall out of the supposedly scientific psychology which, for a quarter of a century, has been preaching that restraints are dangerous to mental health and character. Under this teaching, parents who take their parental prerogative from tradition or common sense, but from the latest scientific fact, have been letting children do about as they pleased, with only a little mild persuasion or exhortation now and then.

Prof. Myers believes this doctrine of no restraint has been the leading cause of our growing vandalism and crime. Now, as his new-old gospel spreads, the children may come in for another good, old-fashioned course of parental control and self-restraint. And nobody can tell how long that will last. The usual common-sense rule of the "middle course", avoiding extremes in either direction, probably holds here. Some control, some freedom, a little spanking, perhaps, but nothing in excess.

WE CHOOSE DEMOCRACY

Sherwood Anderson, in gathering material for his latest book, "Puzzled America", spent a year wandering all over the country, getting acquainted with plain folks, asking them questions, getting them to talking. He visited the people of farms and mines and factories and recorded what they were saying about everything.

Anderson learned a good deal about current hardships and dissatisfaction and so on. But apparently he found little ground for the "red" scare which lately has troubled chambers of commerce and others. He quotes the plain American as saying: "Let us give this democracy thing another whirl yet."

Anderson concludes: "We are still at heart a democracy. A hunger to do the thing together in some way is still alive in us." And of the people who have been hardest hit by the depression, the author writes: "They sure can take it." All of which is no argument for letting wrongs go unrighted. In fact, it is a strong argument for trying all the harder to solve the problems confronting the nation.

TOOTH DECAY

"A short time ago there gathered in the Grand Ballroom of Hotel Pennsylvania, New York city, an audience that overpowered the corridors so great was the interest in the subject discussed."

What was that subject? The discussion was whether the time-honored statement, "A clean tooth never decays" was true, or was not true.

I am quoting from Oral Health, the official organ of the Canadian Dental Association.

Three outstanding research workers stated that a clean tooth was all that was necessary to prevent decay, and three, equally outstanding, believed that tooth decay was due to faulty hygiene and diet.

Thus one school of thought believes that tooth decay starts on the outside of the tooth and that by-products due to fermentation of the tooth whether the quality of the tooth tissue is good or bad. The other, however, suggests that the tooth structure is changed either by inheritance or because of improper diet, and that tooth decay whether clean or not.

Commenting seriously and also humorously on the question, the New York Times states that mothers are now in doubt as to what to do—make the children continue to brush the teeth or feed them certain foods. The youngsters themselves were all for doing away with brushing the teeth until it was found that the diet recommended meant more spinach and cod liver oil.

However the majority of the dental profession is of the opinion that while the process of decay may be the same in every case, the immediate cause may be from inside or outside the tooth, as the decay is affected by local conditions in the mouth and the condition of the blood which nourishes the tooth tissues.

"The modern skillful dentist, one who is called upon to balance the factors concerned, when decay is found, The great amount of decay now existing shows the vit necessity of maintaining mouth health, and overlooking neither the hygiene of the mouth, nor the importance of the diet."

From the above it would appear that you and I must continue brush our teeth to keep the surface clean, and to eat vegetables and fruits daily to maintain the tissue. The youngsters however may have take cod liver oil also.

FINDS U. S. CHILDREN DON'T BELIEVE IN ELVES

Belfast, (P).—Teaching American children to believe in fairies and hobgoblins is a job that requires lots of patience, laments Sir Hugh Robertson, conductor of the Glasgow Orchestral Choir.
During an American tour with his choir, he said, he asked more than 1,000 school children if they believed in the "little folk," and the answer was an unanimous "No."
Irish children, on the other hand, always reward him with an enthusiastic "Yes," he said.

GREAT RICHES

by Mabel Howe Farnham
SYNOPSIS: Much to everybody's satisfaction in New Concord, Kas., possibly accepting his own and Leslie Harris' James Stimson, 17, finds himself engaged to Jane Northrup, Jane's wealthy father insists on buying her a house and letting Jane decorate it although James prefers to live in the stately Stimson mansion on the edge of town. Jane takes him to look through the house when she has finished with it, and James thinks it so awful he laughs.

Chapter 23 RED CARPET

JAMES kissed Jane and told her she was a wonder. He tried then to appear enthusiastic. He agreed that the plenteous of gleaming polished oak made a delightful golden glow, though he thought it dreadful. Later, when Jane had forgiven him and was discussing furniture and color schemes, he even essayed a few tentative suggestions about his preferences.

"I'd like my den papered in red," he said. "And a rich red carpet would look like a million dollars on the stairs."

Jane laughed. "This is woman's work," she countered airily. "Don't go bothering your blessed old head worrying about something of which you know nothing."

A day or two later at an evening party in their honor, James overheard Jane laughing contemptuously over his "alleged taste."

"Would you believe it," Jane went on, "James wants the entire downstairs, ceilings, walls, floors, papered and painted and carpeted in bright Turkey red? And bolts and bars on all the doors. He thinks the only use for a door is to slam it and bolt it!" "You might feed him red meat through the bars," Sam Fletcher suggested.

"Yes, doubtless it will go with his aura," Jane laughed. Everyone laughed except Leslie Harris, who was seated on a cushion on the floor.

"The loveliest house I've ever been in is the Haskell in Fort Leavenworth," Leslie said quickly. "You know Mrs. Haskell was one of the Whiteheads from New York. She made the house over inside and she has a crimson carpet on the stairway. The walls are white and there is an iron balustrade. I thought it was beautiful. And it must be as it's been pictured in 'House and Garden.'"

Mrs. Haskell says crimson is the richest color there is."

"Mrs. Haskell is red headed herself; that may account for it. Well, everyone to his taste. And taste is never arguable, is it?" Jane asked frigidly.

"Yes," said Leslie flatly. "I think a good many of us might argue whether certain things are in good taste."

"And who is to decide?" "One's own first instincts. . . . If one has them," Leslie jumped to her feet and made for the piano. "I'll play. Let everyone dance." She broke into that new success, "I'm the Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo."

James went out to the front porch and smoked a cigar. He had left Jane sitting flushed and discomfited. James' heart was warmed with a gleaming glow of which he knew he ought to be ashamed. . . . Still Leslie was right. It wasn't in the best of taste. He supposed he'd catch it going home. . . .

But the incident was never mentioned by either James or Jane. James noted that at subsequent parties given in his and Jane's honor Leslie Harris was conspicuous by her absence.

In the meantime the preparations for the wedding went furiously on.

A WEDDING between a Stimson and a Northrup naturally was no ordinary event. For weeks and months Jane and her mother had devoted themselves to making it the most brilliant wedding ever held in New Concord. If not in the entire state of Kansas.

The bride's frocks were purchased in New York and the wedding gown came straight from Paris. The lingerie was made every bit by hand in a convent in Saint Louis. The table and bed linen were imported from Ireland and every piece monogrammed.

There was to be a caterer down from Saint Joseph and an orchestra up from Kansas City and a canopy and crimson carpet (imported from God knows where) at both the church and Northrup doors.

The governor, a United States senator and two justices of the Kansas supreme court were to stand in line at the reception immediately following the ceremony. James and the Judge were responsible for the nobles. The Northrups did the rest.

The last night in his old home

Platteville, March 29.—The special services which were conducted in the Knoxville Methodist Church came to a conclusion Sunday evening with a record attendance. Politics at Random

THE extreme difficulty of distinguishing between men and issues is illustrated with emphasis by the present situation in the republican party.

Theoretically, a party should be able to determine through frank conference the principles it desires to adopt, and then decide, as an entirely separate matter, who should lead the effort to carry those principles into effect.

Actually, the question of leaders and the question of issues usually become badly scrambled. They are badly scrambled now in the republican party.

No sooner does Mr. Hoover present a set of principles than a sensation runs through the ranks: "Ah! He is getting ready to run again in 1936!"

Maybe he is, and maybe he isn't. Ordinary logic would seem to indicate that he does not yet know whether he will run. But regardless of the true situation, all his comings and goings henceforth will be viewed by millions as calculated to advance his personal fortunes. He will be cheered by his friends and suspected by his enemies, quite regardless of the merits of what he says or does.

Suspicious Aroused

THE mere suspicion that he is planning to return to active party leadership will arouse and stimulate every one else who covets that leadership. And these, in turn, will look with new suspicion on one another.

When one of them proposes a party platform the question most likely to be discussed in the private confabs of the insiders is not, "Could we win with such a platform?" It is, "Should we let this fellow get away with this?"

That seems to have been illustrated to a degree already in the case of Mr. Hoover. On the day his letter to the California "young republicans" was published, two things happened.

One was that it was suggested far and wide that Mr. Hoover was scheming a come-back, and seeking to line up Californian republicans as a starter. The other was that a number of Californian republicans started a movement for Governor Merriam for president.

Happens in Both Parties
THERE is nothing new in this inclination to switch the conversation to candidates the moment anyone mentions issues.

THE public declarations of republican leaders—including Mr. Hoover—have expressed special anxiety to keep the question of candidates out of the present phase of party deliberations.

It seems doubtful whether they really have had any hope of doing so. That it will be very hard to accomplish can be seen easily—especially now that Mr. Hoover has broken his silence.

It happens regularly in both parties, in spite of the fact that the politicians of both parties love to go on telling the voters that "there is a government of principles, not a government of men." Many a worthy cause has been rejected merely because the wrong man advanced it.

National conventions, following the theory that men and issues should be kept separate, adopt the platform first, then select the nominees. The catch is that any candidate having enough delegates to nominate him uses those delegates also to control the platform committee.

Even then, more than one candidate has calmly though adroitly repudiated those parts of the platform he did not like.

Down the Vista of the Years

by H. L. Van Dusen

No. 4.—The Visiting Firemen.

This has certainly been a wild time in Kingston for we have been entertaining the Hudson Valley firemen holding their annual convention here. The day before the big parade some of the out of town fire companies began to roll into town and they were ready to paint the old town red.

One of the boys with an out of town company was a friend of Uncle Joe, and Ma let uncle invite his friend to share his room while he was attending the convention. This friend, Luke, was what Uncle Joe called him, had the time of his life. It was the first convention he had ever attended and he wanted to touch all the "high spots," and I guess he didn't miss many.

That night Uncle Joe and Luke accounted for at least 12 of the 20 false alarms of fire turned in, and the last I saw of them that night they had gone to the festivities at the Academy of Music.

The local firemen had arranged a dance and the party was in full swing when Uncle Joe and Luke got there. The dance floor was filled with a happy throng and the girls in their gay dresses and the firemen in their red shirts made quite a picture.

Those who were not dancing were gathered around a table on which sat a huge punch bowl. Presiding over the drinks was Itchy Pemerton.

"Step up and nominate your policeman," he was shouting at the top of his lungs, though truth to tell the crowd did not require much urging.

"Hot stuff, eh," says Uncle Joe to Luke as he sampled the punch.

"Hot your grandmother," retorts Luke, as he took another snifter.

"Better not take too many," advised Itchy, "for you'll find it powerful enough to grow whiskers on he family canary."

"Aah, can the chatter," says Luke, and ledle me out another sample.

"Take it easy, big boy," warns Itchy again, "that punch has got a lot of Gardiner applejack in it. Better go easy if you want to parade tomorrow."

"Better take his advice," says Uncle Joe, nudging Luke with his elbow.

"Gwan, a coupler more shots under my belt and I'll be in trim to march a hundred miles," says Luke. Then came the dawn, as they say in the movies.

Uncle Joe was downstairs eating his breakfast when Luke, still in bed, was awakened by a dull, heavy thump, thump, thump, as though someone was pounding him on the head with a mallet.

Instinctively he threw up one arm to cover his head. As he did he slipped in pain as his arm came in violent contact with a heavy object.

"Did you call me, Luke?" asked Uncle Joe as he hurriedly entered the room.

"No, I didn't," retorted Luke sharply. Then he added, "What the devil is this?"

"You insisted on taking it to bed with you," said Uncle Joe.

The object referred to was a large, empty punch bowl. The sight of it began to bring back memories, dim and misty, at first, to Luke.

"Have you forgotten last night?" asked Uncle Joe with a grin.

"Last night," echoed Luke stupidly.

"You certainly were out," commented Uncle Joe. "Have you seen the morning papers?" and he handed the paper to Luke.

Luke glanced at the screaming headline on the first page. It read "WILD PARTY TRIED TO WRECK HALL," and under it was a column story, but when Luke attempted to read the first sentence he started that he saw it up as a bad joke and buried the paper on the floor.

"Have you read it?" he asked Uncle Joe.

Uncle Joe nodded.

"Tell me what it says then," commanded Luke, "and don't stand there yawning like a dead dog."

Uncle Joe skimmed over the high points in the story. According to the paper it must have been some wild party and had wound up with an attempt to set fire to the Music Hall and only the prompt arrival of the

The Wedding

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
MISS ROBIN was standing right outside Top Notch's general store.

"Sweet, sweet," called Mr. Robin, "come inside, my dear, and this fine rooster will help us in choosing the best material for our new home."

"I wish to congratulate you, sir," said Top Notch to Mr. Robin, when he had seen the bride-to-be.

"I am indeed to be congratulated. When I handed this dear little robin a fat and juicy worm this morning as an engagement gift I said to her: 'I'm a lucky robin.'"

"I'm a lucky robin," chirped Miss Robin. Her voice was not quite so lovely as that of Mr. Robin, nor was she dressed so brightly, but she was indeed very sweet and charming.

"Then you're both pleased," said Top Notch. "Well, that's excellent. Now to get on with our shopping." For Top Notch was a good business rooster.

They finished their shopping and then Top Notch said: "When is the wedding to take place?"

"At sundown today," chirped Mr. Robin. "A number of birds are having their weddings today. We thought we'd have a concert, too."

"Won't you come to it?" asked Miss Robin.

"I'd be delighted to come," said Top Notch, who really didn't care a great deal about music, but thought it would be fun to see all the birds who had come to the neighborhood. He told all the other Puddle Muddlers his news, and they all listened to the concert, but Mrs. Duck had quickly managed to have a surprise.

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—Cactus Jack Garner has begun to "crack down" as the presiding officer of the senate.

For the first time since former Vice President Curtis succeeded the gavel to the ruddy-faced Texan, senators and visitors in the gallery have been given to understand in no uncertain terms that order will be had.

Garner has been rather liberal in this respect since he took over the senate. As contrasted with Curtis he has been almost lax. The latter earned for himself during the four years he wielded the gavel a reputation of being the strictest presiding officer the senate had in recent times.

Now he is determined to get results. He has ordered the sergeant-at-arms to have silver pointed staves with gold galleries. Each senator is to have a silver pointer. One of these staves is to be used to correct the galleries. Garner has supplemented these staves with the following warning, delivered in hard-boiled fashion:

"This is not a wonderful show. If you cannot refrain from laughter and manifestations of this over the proceedings of the senate, the chair will order the galleries closed."

This is a stunner, though, but attacks of the senate are "Cactus Jack" seems to have this time. He has it within his power to kick "em all out" if he judges it necessary.

And Garner is the type who will, if pushed too far.

Talks to parents

Gentleness
By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

One of the essentials in handling very little children is gentleness of speech and manner. A baby is like a foreigner and must be given time to understand slowly what is asked of it. Furthermore it is in a position of helplessness, which even the foreigner does not often feel. It is unable to act for itself, and is liable to be forced into things which are strange and may be objectionable to it. There is a tremendous nerve strain put on the baby or toddler who is always being hurried or spoken to in loud tones of voice.

There is the child who is snatched from play and rushed into the bathroom to have its face and hands washed for the next meal. It has no time to prepare itself for the break, and frets and cries in protest through the whole adult scrubs it too vigorously, adding insult to injury with ears and nose rubbed too hard, and soap in eyes and mouth.

Small wonder if the child, subjected to such treatment every day, becomes nervous and fractious. A child should be given time to accept an idea and as far as possible cooperate in carrying it out. It is dealing constantly with a host of new tools and at the same time learning to understand and use language. It needs time whenever an order is given or a suggestion made, to orient itself and prepare for its next move. Watch the deliberateness of the tiny child. It seldom hurries unless driven by fear or hunger; two instinctive reactions which need no thought. The adult in dealing with it must keep speech and action to this slow movement if he wishes to train the child to independent thought and action, and not simply to make of it a puppet dependent on his own convenience and state of mind.

Homeless Hens Move To Church

Ithaca, N. Y., March 29.—A collection plate is passed around in most churches every Sunday to receive the weekly offering. But in one church, collections are made daily, and offerings are received, not in money, but in eggs.

Chickens occupy the pulpit for the daily sermon; they sit in the pews and strut up and down the aisles and they seem to have little regard for the surroundings, clucking at will and cackling whenever they feel like it.

Seven hundred members of this feathered congregation live there and pay for their keep. They rise early in the morning but do not stay out too late at night, for the sexton would close the doors on them.

In all of his years of experience with poultry, L. M. Hurd of the New York State College of Agriculture says he has never seen a church transformed into a home for hens, until recently he happened to come across this one.

The church, he says, is in Cattaraugus county, and a poultryman bought it as a deserted structure for one hundred dollars. Perhaps if he had not bought it, it might have wasted away to rot and ruin. Now it is a home for seven hundred.

He advocated a "pay as you fight" program. (Associated Press Photos)

'MERCY COURT' FOR PRISONERS

The "forgotten men" of Mississippi's prisons—no friends to plead clemency for them—have received the attention of Gov. Sennett Comer (below) and now they can appear in a "mercy court" conducted by the governor to tell their own cases. Above are three who have gone into the court in an effort to gain liberty. They are (left to right) R. B. Throckmold, M. A. Evans and John T. Brady. (Associated Press Photos)

DRAWS PICTURES OF HIS OPERATION

While physicians were sewing up his stomach after an operation, Ted Key, 22, of Berkeley, Calif., lay calmly on the operating table and with pencil and paper drew pictures of the proceedings. Key, former art editor of the University of California Daily Californian, is shown in bed after the operation, surrounded by various of the sketches. Below is one of the sketches. Gasoline Tax Goes Into Effect Monday

Albany, N. Y., March 20 (AP)—New York motorists dig down in their pockets starting next Monday to start the $16,250,000 hoped to be raised by the added gas tax rolling toward the state's coffers.

After midnight on Sunday, the four cent gasoline tax goes into effect. The legislature boosted the rate one cent recently and this is to be used by the state government alone. At present a share of the regular three cent tax is returned to municipalities.

The new levy will end June 30, 1935, and will be collected from distributors and manufacturers as in the past.

Former K. of C. Head Delivers Talk Here

That the United States should not meddle in European affairs, that Europe should not be allowed to meddle in ours, and that by sane and sensible application of citizenship to insure the best kind of government, a new prosperity will result which will exceed golden eras of the past, was the opinion expressed by Edward Hearn, past supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, who was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club Thursday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Many members of the local K. of C. joined with the Kiwanians to hear about the "Mobilization Program for Catholic Action," which was treated in a broad sense.

Prior to the main address Scout Executive William Wright called for cooperation in the approaching regional meeting of his organization. The speaker was introduced by Joseph Deegan in the absence of N. Jansen Fowler, program chairman for March, who with his father are visiting Bermuda.

Mr. Hearn opened his remarks with a glance at the boys' vocational program at Notre Dame University, which he noted had been founded by Civil War priests who were imbued with a spirit of patriotism and service to their fellowmen. The speaker, who has traveled in nearly every country on the globe, warned that Europe was filled to the brim with intrigue and that she considered the United States a "Christmas Tree," depending upon this country to furnish money and supplies for wars. He believed that this custom had now become so established that European countries considered it a "mortal sin" not to take advantage of our resources and finances.

It was Mr. Hearn's opinion that Germany knew she could not fight a successful war at present, surrounded as she is by enemies on every border. Germany seeks to annex Austria as a market and a gateway for economic distribution of her goods, declared the speaker, who pointed out that with the annexation of Austria it would be possible to have "river rights" on the Danube, which she now lacks. Such an expansion program would make Germany the most powerful nation in Europe, was Mr. Hearn's belief. He deplored the lack of action on the part of Catholics in the death of Premier Dollfus, "a man small in stature but with a great mind which was devoted to the interests of his people."

"With all our suffering in this country, with our tax burdens, we in the United States little realize how intense has been the suffering in Europe during these years following the great war," stated the speaker. He called attention to many of the problems facing Europeans, and the struggles that were at hand to keep from starvation. His prediction of a new era of prosperity was based upon the strides of Australia, which several years ago was in the depths of a depression far greater than ours, but which was now enjoying a prosperity never matched in the past. Closing he called for united action in a sane and sensible government through watchful citizenship and the selection of competent men to govern. He asked all to guard against "Red" propaganda, and to think American.

A special musical treat was provided in the appearance of Buddy Moore, who played two piano numbers, "The Guards March" and "The Spinning Song." Music was in charge of Paul Zucca assisted at the piano by Danny Bittner.

Japan Plans 'Emperor's Welcome' For Manchoukuan Monarch's Visit

By GLENN HARD

Tokyo (AP).—An emperor's welcome will be accorded Kang Teh of Manchoukuo when he arrives in Tokyo April 6 to thank Emperor Hirohito of Japan for his realm and his throne.

Although this state visit will be an acknowledgment of Emperor Kang Teh's and Manchoukuo's great indebtedness to the Japanese sovereign—and especially his army—he will be received with all the pomp and circumstance that should mark the hospitality of one emperor to another, his equal.

The Mikado himself will go to the railway station to greet his fellow monarch from over the Sea of Japan, an honor which has not been accorded any visitor in modern times. Hirohito similarly welcomed the Prince of Wales in 1922, but then he was only Prince Regent.

Travel By Imperial Boat.
Leaving Hainan, his capital, on April 2, Emperor Kang Teh will be carried from Dairen to Yokohama aboard the Japanese Navy's imperial passenger boat, the Hiei, a former battle cruiser. He will remain in Tokyo as the Japanese Emperor's guest until April 15, spend a week sightseeing in the famous beauty spots of Japan, at the season in the full glory of the cherry blossoms, and re-embark on the Hiei at Kobe on April 23 for his voyage home.

The official Japanese insistence on Emperor Kang Teh's imperial status and the independence of his realm will be carried out with solemn gravity throughout the spectacle.

When the Manchoukuo monarch arrives at Yokohama aboard the Hiei, he will be met at the dock by Prince Chichibu, the Japanese Emperor's brother. A special train will carry Emperor Kang Teh and his suite—74 of the highest Chinese and Japanese dignitaries of the Manchoukuo government—to Tokyo station, where Emperor Hirohito and the highest officials of his court will be waiting.

An Army Review.
Then will begin nine days of brilliant entertainment of the imperial visitor. The first function will be a great banquet given by Emperor Hirohito in the Homein banquet hall in the Imperial Palace. He will have a special army review staged in his honor April 9 on the Yoyogi Parade Ground, where he will be given a full-dress show of the military power that made him what he is today.

The Manchu Emperor's home during his Tokyo stay will be the Akasaka Palace, a sumptuous European-style edifice usually occupied by the Crown Prince of the Empire.

After leaving Tokyo April 15 Emperor Kang Teh will spend a week in the Kyoto-Nara district, seeing the sights and dutifully visiting the tombs of dead Japanese emperors. From Kobe the Hiei will carry him back to Dairen, the Japanese port of entry to his own empire.

Especially thorough police preparations are in train for Kang Teh's sojourn in Japan, for the Japanese are taking no chances on a fanatical attempt to snuff out the life of this monarch who plays such an important role in the imperial plans of

New Registration Law in Vermont

Albany, N. Y., March 29.—Under a new law Vermont now will permit any motor vehicle owned by a New York resident and registered in this state to be operated in Vermont under New York registration, provided the car is not kept in Vermont in winter. This privilege, however, does not apply in the case of a car used for the transportation of persons or of property for hire or profit between points within Vermont, a motor vehicle carrying an auxiliary fuel tank, or a motor vehicle operated on any work performed under contract for a municipal corporation or school district.

Charles A. Harnett, commissioner of motor vehicles, has notified police agencies of the state that under a reciprocal agreement New York now will honor Vermont registration on Vermont owned cars, provided they are not kept in this state in winter. Exemption is made in this state for the transportation of persons or property for hire or profit between points within New York. Vehicles equipped with auxiliary fuel tanks, and motor vehicles operated on any work performed under contract for a municipal corporation or school district.

"I am not in favor of such nonsense," he said, when questioned concerning Mrs. Hauptmann's statement she would welcome use of a lie detector on her husband and would ask defense counsel to seek such a test.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It was a Saturday noon, and Harry Bucquet was just leaving the studio's main gate when he was halted by a message. Marion Talley was on Stage 23, waiting for a test. Would he go over right away, because Miss Talley had only a limited time in Hollywood and besides, the stage space would be needed later in the day?

Of course he would, Harry Bucquet is M-G-M's "test director." He used to be an assistant director, but for the last two years he has been making tests, and directing on his own sometimes, as now with the "Chic" Sale one-reelers. But mostly what he does is directing tests.

Sings 'Faust'

Marion Talley, the operatic prima donna, was waiting, in the costume of Marguerite in "Faust." With her was Herbert Stothart, the studio musical director, a piano accompanist, and the usual technical crew. There had been no time to assemble a symphony orchestra which usually helps singers brave a test. In less than four hours the Talley test was done. In that time she had been recorded and photographed singing the "Jewel" aria from "Faust" and a Victor Herbert melody. The test brought the contract which will bring the singer back for a picture this summer.

Many Get 'Jitters'

Bucquet thinks Marion Talley was unusually courageous facing the test camera for the first time. Many players, even seasoned in films, betray extreme nervousness on the test stage. Testing is going on, day in and day out, at all the studios. Two or three tests a day are made at M.G.M. of new prospects alone. Then there are endless tests for players to fit a role, for costumes for make-ups, for wigs. So he is used to it. But candidates for roles and contracts.

"The most difficult thing for them," says Bucquet, "is the mental hazard. They know they are being tried out, that success depends on what they do before the camera. In those moments of testing, I have had actors become hysterical, actresses break into tears, under the strain. The funny thing is that these same players, once they are selected, may give fine performances. Knowing they have won out gives them the confidence that would be invaluable to them during the test. Sometimes excellence shines through even a bad test—they knew Robert Taylor was good material even though his first test was so poor he demanded a new one—but they put him into a picture, instead. They know."

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Enchanted April." Ann Harding, whose quiet beauty and charm have won her glory on the screen, turns her attention to a husband's waning love in this picture and diagnoses the reasons for such an ailment as well as a means of cure. Dramatic, splendidly acted, this story of a wife's devotion to a husband who owes most of his success to his wife's belief in his career and who forgets her part in it when the goal is achieved, is enjoyably played by both Miss Harding and Frank Morgan. The comedy moments are sparse during the run of the play, but what the show lacks in humor is rectified by the inspiration of seeing flawless acting being done by the principals. Others in the cast are Reginald Owen, Katherine Alexander and Jane Baxter.

Orpheum: "Whirlpool" and "Brand of Hate." Jack Holt and Jean Arthur are swept through a torrent of human emotions during the run of the first feature, an ancient tale that was released long ago. Mr. Holt plays his usual hero role and there is great excitement at all times. "Brand of Hate" is the second feature, an average western yarn with Robert Steele in the starring role.

Kingston: "The Great Hotel Murder." Great and gusty humor is to be found in this murder tale, with the rowdy Victor McLaglin and Edmund Lowe co-featured in the main roles. The plot is laid in a hotel where a famous writer of murder stories is staying, and while there a murder takes place. He solves the baffling order of events despite the fact that the dumb house detective does all he can to complicate matters. Filled with laughs, some tense moments, and above average acting, this play is good for an evening mixed with thrills and humor. Mary Carlisle, Rosemary Ames and C. Henry Gordon are in the cast. Eugene Forde directed.

course of this film, for he plays a dual role, and his characterizations are so aptly done that some of Mr. Robinson's more recent pictures are forgiven because of the dexterity and brilliance of his latest triumph. In one character, Mr. Robinson is a timid and terrified clerk, in another he is a tough, swaggering mobster wanted by the police, and when one man is mistaken for the other, great excitement prevails. The show is one of the star's best dramatic efforts, and it moves briskly through a chain of exciting and enjoyable situations, with an able cast that offers Jean Arthur, Wallace Ford, Arthur Hohl and Arthur Byron. John Ford directed and did a fine job.

EXTRACTIONS

No matter how badly your teeth may be aching we can make extractions with the least discomfort. The most sensitive or nervous persons can forget their fears when they come to Dr. Feldman's office. Parents can bring their children with the full assurance they will receive sympathetic and kindly consideration.

Plates or Bridge Work

We make our own restorations fit the individual requirements of each patient. With our Restoration Plates you can laugh, sing, talk or eat as with nature's own teeth. It's difficult to detect them as artificial teeth.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, March 29.—A meeting of the Priscilla Society will be held at 7:30 this evening at the home of Mrs. Matthew Fowler on Schryver street. Mrs. Fowler and Mrs. Amelia Rose will be the hostesses.

Choir practice will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church at 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold a card party in the firehouse on Tuesday evening, April 30. The public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Hope Lodge, No. 48, K. of P., will hold its regular meeting this evening.

A pre-school child health clinic was held at the town clerk's office on Broadway, Port Ewen, on Wednesday. Twenty-four children were examined by two New York State Department of Health doctors, Dr. Martha Mandell and Dr. Alice T. Baker, with a staff of two registered nurses and a dental hygiene nurse. The staff was assisted by Miss Wilma Peterson, county nurse, and Mrs. A. W. Windram, president of the Port Ewen Parent-Teacher Association. Each child received a thorough physical examination and all children over two years old were examined by the dental hygiene nurse. During the day the clinic was visited by Dr. George W. Ross of Port Ewen, Dr. Elizabeth Parsons of Kingston and Miss Holiday, supervisor of nurses in the county. Transportation was furnished by the Port Ewen Parent-Teacher Association. Plans are being made to conduct a similar clinic in the last part of April.

A Toast

Here's to the girls and their well-dressed ways,
Though they look their best on windy days.

First Novice Golfer—Are you the man who went around this course in 75?

Second Novice Golfer—Certainly not. I was born in 98.

The boys and girls don't stop to think that the best present they get when they are graduated is a high school education.

Employer—Now, whenever I enter the workshop, I want to see every man cheerfully performing his task, and therefore I invite you to place in this box any suggestion as to how this can be brought about.

A few days later he opened the box and took out a slip of paper on which was written: "Take the rubber heels off your shoes."

It is nice of the government to play Santa Claus, but Santa Claus always leaves the bill for dear old Dad to settle.

Pretty-Pretty

Here is a springtime bird
Whose note goes "pretty-pretty".
At early morn is heard
Its rare and flute-like ditty.
The lady who gives ear
Is rosy and smiling,
Of course she likes to hear
This compliment beguiling.

Wife—What did you mean by playing out so late?

Husband—I didn't want to disturb you. I was at a lecture where a doctor said that sleep before midnight was the best.

If Nature is so smart how come the hair you need falls out and the teeth you don't want have to be pulled?

Helen—And you sat beside a post at the picture show last night?

Mildred—Yes, he didn't even try to hold my hand.

Why is it that the humane society arrested a man for beating a horse and doesn't do a single thing to a woman who kisses her dog?

Collegiate Proverbs

Too many boys spoil the date.
I'd rather be tight than president.
A right answer turns away zeros.

The first hundred courses are the hardest.
Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we slunk.

A skeleton 200 years old has been found with the legs wrapped around the neck. Probably some ancient smart aleck just trying to show off.

First Business Man—Was the conference a success? What did you decide?

Second Business Man—It was great. We decided to have another conference next week.

Nobody finds perfect bliss in this world except the woman who discovers that her old rival has grown real fat.

First Credit Man—How about Amos Tash, of Bushville?

Second Credit Man—He always pays cash, so we don't know how honest he is.

The difference between a roughneck and a gentleman is that in a domestic squabble the gentleman just slams the door as he goes out.

Husband—What are we going to have for breakfast, dear?

Wife—Pancakes.

Husband—Why the English pronunciation? You mean "pancakes", don't you?

Wife—N. O. I had to pawn a bracelet to buy the flour.

When a man in a cheap restaurant informed the waiter he was hungry enough to eat a horse, he was politely informed he had come to the right place.

(The Moss Feature Syndicate, 808 Summit Avenue, Greensboro, N. C.)

GAS BUGGIES—Ease Up on the Bit.

YOUR CAR WILL SOON BE READY, SIR. SORRY TO KEEP YOU WAITING.

I DON'T MIND BUT MY LITTLE GIRL IS GETTING FIDGETY.

COME ON DADDY.

I'M TIRED WAITING.

LET'S PLAY A GAME WHILE WE'RE WAITING. SEE IF YOU CAN RUN TO THAT POST AND BACK BEFORE I CAN COUNT UP TO TWENTY.

SEVEN... EIGHT... NINE... TEN... ELEVEN... TWELVE...

TOUCH THE POST BEFORE YOU START BACK.

THAT IS REALLY HANDLING A CHILD JUST SAY "NOW BE QUIET" AND KEEP ON NAGGING TIL THE CHILD WAS IN TEARS.

A CHILD'S EXCESS ENERGY IS LIKE STEAM IT WILL BLOW UP IF YOU DON'T EASE OFF THE PRESSURE OCCASIONALLY.

Hauptmann—Waits—Varies Days In Limits Of Death House Routine

Three years ago on April 2 the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom was paid—and the world waited anxiously for the safe return of the baby. Today it is Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted of the child's kidnapping, who waits—wondering whether legal moves will save him from death.

Trenton, N. J., (AP).—Breakfast at 7, dinner at noon, supper at 8. Breakfast... dinner... supper.

The days vary little for Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the death house at state prison.

He is up before 7. On the hour, he eats his first meal of fruit, an egg, bread, butter and coffee. He sees a guard in blue uniform and brass buttons sitting in front of his cell. The man, or another like him, has been there all night and will always be there while Hauptmann is inside. Until noon he is free to do as he pleases within the carefully worked Breakfast—dinner—supper—to bed—that's Bruno Richard Hauptmann's death house routine. In between he chops away at the monotony of prison days.

ENGLEWOOD KILLER IS Hauptmann Jailmate

Trenton, N. J., (AP).—In a death house cell near that of Bruno Richard Hauptmann is a youth condemned to die in the electric chair for the murder of a "gas" station proprietor who listed Col. Charles A. Lindbergh among his customers.

The condemned man is John Favorito, 25-year-old Edgewater mechanic. He was convicted of fatally wounding Emil Vyborny, of Englewood Cliffs, in a $4 hold-up last year. Vyborny's station was not far from Englewood and the Morrow estate. Vyborny lingered for several days after the holdup and Lindbergh inquired several times about his condition before the wound proved fatal.

out routine of the prison. He reads religious tracts, his Bible. He writes. He paces his large cell.

With its contents described as "a gentleman in reduced circumstances," an urn carried by a woman and containing the remains of her husband, who she had the misfortune

Noon and dinner of meat, potatoes, another vegetable, coffee, bread, butter and dessert.

Until 5 o'clock he is free again to do as he chooses. He reads, he writes. He stripes to the waist and exercises. He reads, writes, paces his cell, meditates.

At 5 o'clock, supper. It is the same as the dinner.

Reading, writing, walking through the hours.

Sometimes there are visits from the Rev. D. L. Werner, his spiritual adviser, or from Mrs. Hauptmann.

Rain drenches the earth, soft winds blow, the sun shines. One day follows another. Outside the red brick walls of the death house there is change. But inside none, save when a man goes out, and usually that is through the back door—dead.

A lot of politicians would jump on the band wagon earlier if they could be sure that it wasn't a trailer in disguise.

Barbers Fail To Agree On a Plan

were not interested as to what ordinance was adopted or not adopted by the barbers, but if the present ordinance was approved they desired to have the word "male" included so that the beauty shops, whose patronage is made up of women, would not be affected if the ordinance became a law.

Cook Explains Ordinance

Mr. Cook, who had been retained by those in favor of the ordinance, spoke in favor of the ordinance. He opened by saying that he was glad to see that the two principal barbers in the city, Mr. Flanagan and himself, had been chosen to discuss this ordinance. He said that he understood that a number of those who had signed the opposing petition now wanted to withdraw their names and return to their first allegiance.

The ordinance in its general provisions, said Mr. Cook, has been adopted by some 14 other cities in the state. It is operating in Poughkeepsie, in Albany and other cities.

Barbering is an art of ancient origin and in the early days was closely associated with medicine.

Some of Objections Sound

Mr. Cook said that some of the objections advanced by Mr. Flanagan were sound and on behalf of those favoring the ordinance he said that they consented at this time to amend the ordinance so as to meet the principal objections made by Mr. Flanagan.

Mr. Cook said he could see no reason for objection on the part of the barbers for the adoption of an ordinance. Why should barbers want their business regulated unless there was some good reason for it.

The present ordinance said Mr. Cook was not intended to place any barber out of business for it specifically stated that any barber in business at the time it became a law should be granted a license and was not required to take an examination.

"So you see it does not exclude those now in business here," said Mr. Cook.

What It Will Do

Mr. Cook said that there were always certain barbers who will take on as a barber a stranger in the city and one who is willing to work for a low wage. This ordinance would prevent the drifter from one knows where to drift into the city and get a job in a barbershop. This drifter may have a communicable disease that he can communicate to the patron in the chair.

With an ordinance that requires all barbers to be licensed this would be eliminated. This is the most beneficial feature of the ordinance he said.

Mr. Cook said he agreed with Mr. Flanagan that the three-year restriction should be eliminated and those in favor of the ordinance were willing to have the clause eliminated by striking out the words, "In the city of Kingston." Another clause he was willing to have eliminated was the one that required all licenses to be countersigned by the secretary of the journeymen barbers' local.

This ordinance is not without objectionable features he said and those favoring it were willing to have it amended. Because a rough draft of a proposed ordinance was submitted it did not mean that it could not be amended and objectionable features eliminated.

Speaking in regard to the power vested in the mayor giving the mayor the authority to revoke any license Mr. Cook asked in what authority could it be better vested.

In regard to the insertion of the word "male" in the ordinance as requested by the hairdressers he said he was sorry that he could not agree as it would have a tendency to take all female patronage away from the barbershops, but that there was ample protection for the hairdressers and beauty shops in another section of the ordinance.

With the amendments proposed he believed that the ordinance should be adopted as it not only protected the barbers themselves but the patrons of the shops.

Mr. Flanagan Replied

Mr. Flanagan asked for an additional few minutes to reply to Mr. Cook and his request was granted by Chairman Lefrey. Mr. Flanagan said that those he represented were not willing to compromise on the present ordinance. He said that the ordinance had been approved at a meeting where only parts of the ordinance were read. He said that if the present ordinance was adopted and if the journeymen barbers went on strike and two of the journeymen barbers were on the board they would have not only the master barbers at their mercy but those who patronized the shops.

"There is something in the woodpile," observed Mr. Flanagan. He said that there was no crying need for any better sanitary conditions than were now observed in the shops of the city. There had not been an epidemic of barbers' itch or any other communicable disease in the city and the committee should not overlook the fact that it was the customers who compel the barber to keep his shop sanitary.

In closing he said that those who opposed the ordinance were willing to meet with those in favor to discuss an ordinance and that they could then draft an ordinance and that will express the desires of those in the trade.

Mr. Cook suggested that the opponents to the measure submit a list of proposed amendments to the ordinance and that would meet the situation.

Huge Profits Recorded On Utilities Deals

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—A profit of nearly $2,000,000, gained over a period of six years of utility transactions on an investment of $125,000 today was written into the record of the legislative committee investigating public utilities.

The committee, through Stuart Ross, chief accountant, disclosed yesterday at a hearing in the capitol that the profit was made by Howard C. Hopson, executive of the Associated Gas and Electric Company and several affiliated companies and members of his family. The actual amount of the profit, he said, was $1,818,000.

Ross testified that Hopson and four sisters invested $125,000 in the H. C. Hopson and Company, a partnership which did work for gas and electric operating companies of the associated system in rate cases.

The sisters, he said, were Mary C. Hopson, Pearl M. Hopson, Norma J. Hopson and Amy H. Starch.

When the partnership was dissolved in 1932, Ross said, Hopson received a total of $390,597.69. Mary C. Hopson received $255,729.93, he testified, and the three others received the same total as their brother.

The partnership had two divisions, Ross said, "one that performed the accounting services for the associated companies and an engineering division which performed services such as assisting in rate valuations, appraisals of its properties, and so forth."

"The partnership in its early days had other clients, but its principal source of revenue were the revenues supplied by the operating companies of the associated system."

Ross also testified at the hearing that E. J. Cheney, an appraiser working for the associated companies, received and passed on $294,000 from the Rochester Gas and Electric Company, an associated gas and electric affiliate, for an appraisal which never was used and which, Ross said, the Rochester Company officials asserted was not necessary.

Clouds Guard Hidden Treasure

"Old Morgan," a narrow bank of clouds which sometimes hangs over the length of Bermuda, guards treasure buried in the islands. According to a Bermuda legend, the formation is the spirit of Sir Henry Morgan, notorious pirate and one-time governor of Jamaica. Which of Bermuda's treasures he guards is a moot question, for a number of islands in the chain are dug up even today by men searching for pirate gold. Cross Island, in the Great Sound, has, Bermudians say, a treasure left by a grounded Spanish ship. A cross placed on the island in line with two others in Bermuda once justified this belief, though no treasure has ever been found.

IN THE 80's

AND 90's before the dawn of the motor age, and when the bicycle represented frivolity's peak, life was safer and accidents fewer. Today the need for accident and health insurance is apparent enough to those who understand statistics on sickness, injuries and accidental death.

Don't put off getting that accident and health insurance.

Purchasing Agent shall keep a minute book of all proceedings thereof, and shall perform such additional duties as may be required by the Board, or by law or ordinance of the Common Council. Meetings of the Board of Estimate shall be called by the Mayor or a majority of the members thereof.

Sec. 60. DETERMINATION OF POSITIONS AND SALARIES. The Board of Estimate, except as otherwise provided by law, shall have authority to fix the salaries or compensation and determine the positions and numbers of all city officers and employees of each office, board or department.

Sec. 61. DESIGNATION OF DEPOSITARIES OF CITY FUNDS. The Board of Estimate, before designating depositaries for any city funds, shall give reasonable notice to all incorporated banks and trust companies in the city. Said Board shall designate as depositaries of city funds one or more such banks or trust companies in the city.

Sec. 62. CONTRACTS. It shall be the duty of the Board of Estimate, except as otherwise provided by law, in accordance with the rules to be adopted by said Board of Estimate, to let to the lowest bidder, who will give adequate security therefor, all contracts for the performance of any work and for the supply of any materials required by or for the use of any officer, board, body or department of the city, except for municipal lighting, and except work done by any department, other than by contract, in all cases where the expense of such work or materials, or both, shall exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, unless by resolution adopted by a unanimous vote of the Board of Estimate it is determined to be impracticable to procure such work or materials, or both, by contract, in which case said resolution shall designate the officer, board or department to procure such work or purchase such materials. In case of public emergency involving accident or other injury by which the heating or plumbing of any of the public buildings, or any of the fire or water-works apparatus shall become disabled, the board or department having jurisdiction thereof may cause repairs thereto to be made without a letting by contract, upon filing with the Board of Estimate a certificate, approved by the Mayor, showing such emergency and the necessity for such repairs. The Board of Estimate shall have power to reject all bids or proposals. The notices to present bids shall be issued by the Board of Estimate to prospective contractors, and shall describe the work and materials for which contracts are contemplated to be let and the day, hour and place of the meeting at which bids therefor will be opened. Specifications for the performance of any work and for the supply of any materials shall be prepared and set forth with sufficient detail to inform all persons proposing to bid therefor of the nature of the work to be done and of the materials to be supplied, and written or printed copies thereof shall be delivered to all applicants therefor. Every contract for a public improvement shall be based upon an estimate of the whole cost thereof, including all expenses incidental thereto and connected therewith, to be furnished by the proper officer, board or department having charge of such improvement. No bid or proposal shall be received or contract awarded, other than for a local improvement or work to be performed by the city, which involves the construction or maintenance of any structure, erection, obstruction or excavation within, under, over, along or upon any street or public place within the city, unless the person to whom such contract shall be awarded shall have a franchise or permit covering the same. No contract shall be let, except after the receipt of sealed bids or proposals therefor, and no bids or proposals shall be received unless they conform to the rules of the Board of Estimate. All bids or proposals must be endorsed with the title of the work or materials to which they relate, the name of the bidder and his address. The Board of Estimate shall meet at the time and place mentioned in the notice to present bids, for the receipt and opening of bids or proposals, and such meeting shall be open to the public. After all the bids or proposals have been presented, they shall be opened by the Board of Estimate publicly and in the presence of the bidders and other persons present, and an abstract of all such bids or proposals, with the prices and security offered, shall be transcribed in a book kept for that purpose, without any change, correction or addition whatever. The Board of Estimate may reject all bids or proposals received at any meeting and again issue notice for new bids or proposals to be received at another meeting as above prescribed. No person submitting, or on whose behalf a bid or proposal is submitted, nor the principal or sureties on any bond or security accompanying the same, shall have the right to withdraw or cancel any such bid, proposal or bond until the Board of Estimate shall have awarded the contract for which such bid or proposal is made, and such contract shall have been duly executed or until all such bids or proposals have been rejected. Where any work or repairs needed to be done, or materials or supplies to be furnished for any officer, board or department, shall not exceed two hundred and fifty dollars in cost, the Board of Estimate may by general or special rule authorize the respective officer or department to give written orders therefor and purchase the same. No materials or supplies shall be purchased for or delivered by or upon the order of the Board of Estimate to any officer or department of the city, except upon the requisition in writing from the officer or department for which the same are required.

Sec. 63. LIMITATION ON CONTRACTS AND EXPENDITURES. Neither the Board of Estimate nor any officer, board or department of the city, excepting as herein otherwise provided, shall create any pecuniary obligations whatever on the part of the city which shall not be payable in the current fiscal year and which cannot be discharged from the income of the same year, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of contracts for lighting of the public streets, parks and places of the city for a period not exceeding five years, but the total amount of such expense of lighting the streets and parks of the city for each year shall be raised by taxation as herein provided. Any contract, verbal or written, made in violation of this section shall be null and void as to the city, and no moneys belonging to the city shall be paid thereon. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be held to prohibit the Health Officer from expending such sums in addition to the amount appropriated for such purpose, or incurring such debts as may be actually necessary to suppress or prevent the spread of any contagious or infectious disease or any epidemic in the city.

Sec. 64. FISCAL YEAR: DEPARTMENTAL ESTIMATES. The fiscal year of the city shall commence on the first day of January. On or before the fifteenth day of November in each year, all heads of departments and officers empowered by law or by ordinance to control or authorize expenditures shall furnish to the Mayor estimates, in writing, of the amount of expenditures for the next fiscal year in their respective departments and offices, including a statement of the salaries of all their subordinates, which estimates the Mayor shall lay before the Board of Estimate at its first meeting thereafter, and the same shall be entered in the minutes.

Sec. 65. ANNUAL ESTIMATE. Not later than the first day of December prior to the commencement of each fiscal year, the Board of Estimate shall make and adopt an itemized statement, in writing, of the estimated revenues and expenditures of the city for such fiscal year, which shall be known as the annual estimate. The estimated revenues shall contain an estimate of the probable revenues which, in the judgment of the Board of Estimate, will be received by the city during the fiscal year; and a statement of all unexpended balances or estimated unexpended balances of the current fiscal year remaining to the credit of the city, or of any officer, board or department thereof. The estimate of expenditures shall contain an estimate of the several amounts of money which the Board of Estimate deems necessary to provide for the expenses of conducting the business of the city in each board, department and office thereof and for the various purposes contemplated by this Charter and otherwise by law for the said fiscal year; to pay the principal and interest of any bonded or other indebtedness of the city falling due during the said fiscal year; and the amount of any judgments recovered against the city and payable during the said fiscal year, and the probable amount necessary to defray the amount of tax to be levied in the City for State and County purposes. After said annual estimate shall have been completed and on or before December 20th, the Board of Estimate shall submit the same to the Common Council with a statement, in writing, of such reasons for such estimate as it may deem proper. The Common Council shall study and consider the annual estimate and return the said annual estimate to the Board of Estimate by December 24, with their comments and objections, if any. The Mayor shall hold a public hearing on the said annual estimate on a regular week day before the first day of January, to afford an opportunity to any persons who desire to be heard in reference thereto. After such public hearing the Mayor shall deliver the estimate to the Board of Estimate, which Board shall present the final annual estimate to the Common Council at their first regular meeting in January. The Common Council shall adopt such final annual estimate so submitted or shall diminish or reject any items therein contained, and adopt said estimate as so amended. The Common Council shall not have the power to diminish or reject any item which relates to salaries, the indebtedness or estimated revenues, or the sums estimated as necessary to pay the tax to be levied within the city for State and County purposes, or the sums lawfully payable within said fiscal year upon judgments; nor shall the Common Council increase any item contained in said final estimate for any purpose whatever.

Sec. 66. TAX BUDGET. The amount of estimated expenditures contained in the final annual estimate adopted by the Common Council, less the amount of estimated revenues applicable to the payment thereof, and the amount of all judgments payable prior to the tax levy, shall constitute the tax budget.

Sec. 67. ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS. When the Common Council shall have adopted the final estimates of the Board of Estimate, or said estimate as amended by it, the same shall be entered at large in its minutes and become a part of its proceedings. The several sums estimated for expenditures therein shall be and become appropriated in the amounts and for the several departments, officers and purposes as therein specified for the said fiscal year. The several sums therein enumerated as estimated revenues and the moneys necessary to be raised by tax in addition thereto to pay the expenses of conducting the business of the city and for the purposes contemplated by this Charter and otherwise by law shall be and become applicable in the amounts therein named for the purpose of meeting said appropriations. In case the revenues received by the city exceed the amount of such revenues named in said final annual estimate, or in case there remain any unexpended balances of appropriations made for the support of the city government or for any other purpose, then such surplus revenues or such unexpended balances shall, except as otherwise provided by law, remain upon deposit and be included as part of the estimated revenues for the succeeding year. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the transfer prior to the close of the fiscal year of unexpended balances from one department, officers or purpose to another department, officer or purpose provided such transfer be authorized by resolution duly adopted by the Board of Estimate, and by the Common Council.

Prince Michael Tired
New York, March 28 (AP)—Tired of New York, its glitter and numerous courts, "Prince Michael" Romanoff is going back to the good, simple life in the middle west. "I'm going to quit New York—leave it flat on its back—and move to the middle west where I'll lose my identity," announced the "prince" to an audience in commercial frauds court. As Harry Gerguson, the counterfeit prince used to press pants for a living back in Hillsboro, Ill. Gerguson, man-about-town, was arraigned on a charge of disturbing the peace in a hotel in the little hours last Sunday morning. His case was put over until April 2 and he was freed on bail. There is some difficulty about his hotel bill.

Richest Show of Blossoms.
Washington, March 28 (AP)—The capital's famous cherry trees are expected to stage, beginning this week-end, the richest show in years. "The trees are in the best condition they have been in for many seasons," Frank T. Gartside, parks official, said. "They're just loaded with buds." The trees lining the tidal basin, gifts to Washington from the mayor of Tokyo, already are exhibiting scattered blossoms and "if" the weather continues warm for the next forty-eight hours, the government expects them to be in their glory this Sunday. The blossoms usually last about ten days.

31 Forest Fires Were Extinguished

Albany, N. Y., March 28 (AP)—Thirty-one forest fires which burned in various sections of the state yesterday were reported extinguished today by the Conservation Department.

First of the spring season, 11 of the blazes were in Suffolk county, Long Island, where because of extremely high winds they were of unusual severity.

Five of the 11 fires in the Long Island region exceed 120 acres each, the largest covering 250 acres in the town of Islip before being controlled. Other large fires were in Babylon, Riverhead and Brookhaven.

Eight blazes were reported in the Catskill Mountain area, seven in Ulster county and one in Delaware.

Four fires, all small, were reported in Rockland county and two in Orange. Westchester county had five and Dutchess one, all of minor nature.

Reciprocal Trade Pact
Washington, March 28 (AP)—The United States and Haiti signed today a reciprocal trade agreement. The pact assures Haiti of the continued duty-free admission into the United States of coffee, cocoa beans, bananas, sisal fiber, logwood, and ginger root, and reduced duties on rum, fresh pineapples and preserved mangos and guavas. In return Haiti granted tariff reductions on 13 American products, pledged itself to maintain existing rates on 19 articles, and promised to reduce the tariff on lard.

automobile tires and tubes, and radios when the Haitian financial condition improves. The treaty, another in the series of reciprocal pacts, is a most-favored-nation agreement.

Building Increase in Rio

McCall Committee Continues to April 5

Albany, N. Y., March 28 (AP).—Continuation of the McCall reapportionment committee of the New York legislature until after April 5, indicated today that a congressional redistricting bill will be tossed into legislative hoppers next week regardless of the outcome of the legislative reapportionment measure.

The Assembly adopted a resolution extending the life of the redistricting committee despite the warning of Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, veteran New York Democrat, that "you can continue this committee until the day of judgment and it will not be able to draft constitutional bills for reapportioning districts, legislative or congressional."

"The only way to do this thing is to call a constitutional convention in 1936," he said.

The Tammany legislator, who voted against the bill reapportioning Senate and Assembly seats on the first roll call, has a bill before the House proposing a constitutional convention.

Assemblyman Saul S. Streit, New York Democrat, and co-sponsor of the legislative redistricting measure, announced that the bill for new House of Representatives seats is expected to be ready next week.

The measure proposes 45 seats, instead of the 43 at present, which are elected from specific districts with two at large because no bill has passed since the last census.

It is planned to place 26 seats south of Westchester, with 25 to New York city and the other to Long Island. Upstate New York will get 19.

AN INEXPENSIVE SOURCE OF FRESH VEGETABLES

Farmers who keep detailed financial accounts report that the family garden is the most inexpensive source of fresh vegetables. It requires the least amount of space in proportion to productivity and gives the greatest returns for time and money expended. The Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Clubs are very much interested in these gardens and are prepared to give assistance. The following bulletins will be found helpful at this time in selecting seed, locating the garden and combating insects and diseases:

Cornell bulletin 206, "The Control of Diseases and Insects Affecting Vegetable Crops."

Cornell bulletin 317, Varieties of Vegetables for 1935.

Cornell bulletin—Better Seed for Commercial Vegetable Growers.

WAR DEAD FOUND IN LOST GRAVES

Arras, France, (AP).—Once bloody battlefields, now flourishing farms and busy factory sites, still are yielding the bones of soldiers from unmarked graves of 20 years.

Many of them are identified to be sent home to rest in the village churchyard. Often a pencil, a watch or a ring is the means of naming them again after two decades on the "Lost in Action" lists. Unidentified bones are placed in a common charnel house with a last brief absolution by the village priest.

A corps of searchers, divided into teams of three, is pacing off nearly every foot of earth where battle was known.

Roman Coins Found.

Rome, (AP).—A cache of 5,066 silver coins representing practically every issue of the Roman empire from the days of the Caesars down through the second half of the third century has been found by peasants in the nearby village of Selva.

Services at the M. E. Church on Sunday will be as follows: Church School at 9 a. m. under the leadership of Oscar Wood. Divine worship at 10 a. m. The pastor, the Rev. Roscoe Strivings, has chosen for his topic to the juniors, "Christ and the Rich Young Ruler." A beautiful picture of the topic will be given to each family of children present. The text for the message of the morning will be "The Cross of the Christian Faith." At 6:30 o'clock the membership class will meet with the pastor at the church. No Tax Boost in Land Buying Plan

Ithaca, N. Y., March 29.—"State reforestation of poor agricultural land will not bring about higher tax rates on the farms and homes that continue to pay taxes," says Charles N. Lane of the New York state college of agriculture.

"When the state buys land for reforestation," he points out, "it pays property taxes in the form of town and school taxes which, in most counties, make up about two-thirds of the property tax levy. Even if the state did not pay town and school taxes the present system of state aid for schools and roads would prevent a material increase in local taxes."

"Land suited to reforestation and recreation carries only a small share of the property tax burden, as shown by studies made with the help of assessors in the three counties of Broome, Montgomery, and Tompkins, and in estimates of thirty-five additional upstate counties."

"In Broome county, the poorest land classes comprise nearly one-half of the total area, but less than two per cent of the value of taxable property. A similar situation prevails in Montgomery county; and in Tompkins, thirty-four per cent of the poor-land areas bear only two per cent of the taxes."

"In only ten counties, out of thirty-eight in the state, does the land suited to reforestation account for more than five per cent of property taxes; and it exceeds ten per cent in only one county."

"Furthermore," Mr. Lane adds, "reforestation would mean a saving" to the state, as many small schools could be discontinued and the upkeep of roads could be reduced. Everyone who contributes to state income would save.

"Also, the buying of land is gradual, spread over many years. The state does not intend to make vast purchases in a short time. Neither does the state intend to force people to move. State purchases are limited to land owned by persons who wish to sell at a reforestation price, and purchases are further limited by the amount of available funds."

Norris Says Roosevelt Likely Nominee in '36

Washington, March 29 (AP).—Senator Norris, discussing the political situation from the vantage point of an "in-between," said today he thinks President Roosevelt will be renominated next year and that there will be no third party.

The Nebraska Republican Independent, who supported Smith in 1928 and Roosevelt in 1932, said the President does not have a "clinch," but that he will be re-elected "if he doesn't swing to the right."

Looking over the field of possible Republican candidates, Norris said in an interview that he saw no one now that would win his support, but he said he had no idea who would be nominated by the party.

Nomination of former President Hoover, Norris said, would mean the re-election of President Roosevelt.

The Nebraska's views on the political outlook were obtained in response to specific questions. He was obviously not very interested in the political situation, his conversation turning constantly to the great dust storms in the west and the damage they had done.

TRAVELING EXPENSES FOR DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—The New York senate Thursday passed a bill which will permit deputy boxing commissioners of the state athletic commission to receive traveling expenses.

Senator A. Spencer Field, New York Democrat, sponsor of the measure, said deputy boxing commissioners have heretofore had to pay their own expenses to supervise boxing shows, although a commissioner or deputy must be in attendance.

Events Around
The Empire State

Watertown, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today received more than 2,000 ballots cast by dairy farmers of Jefferson, St. Lawrence, Lewis, Oswego and Franklin counties in a poll conducted by the Watertown Times to determine rural sentiment on milk law changes. The vote stood 24 to 1 for legislative action to fix milk prices to farmers only; for payment of dairymen twice a month, 14 to 1; and 46 to 1 for compelling a periodic audit of the books of dealers and co-operatives under state supervision. The poll was conducted by the Watertown Daily Times.

Beacon, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Authorities today sought relatives of Thomas Burns, 40, former night watchman on the excursion boat "Belle Isle" whose body was found in 25 feet of water off a New York, New Haven and Hartford wharf here last night.

The discovery was made by H. Steiner, a diver doing repair work for the railroad company. The crew of the "Belle Isle" made the identification. Clifton Springs, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Believed to be the first organizer of a Boy Scout troop in America, Frank P. Gray, 71, is dead after a long illness. He had been a patient at the Clifton Springs Sanitarium for the last seven years. A graduate of Syracuse University, class of 1891, Gray established his home in Montclair, N. J., meeting Sir Robert Baden-Powell during a visit to England, he returned to Montclair and organized a troop in 1909. It was named after Baden-Powell. A year later the national council was organized. Gray had been associated with the council up to his death.

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Expecting to have a quiet birthday dinner with his family in the executive mansion last night, Governor Herbert H. Lehman received a bit of a surprise when the staff of the executive chamber burst in on him dressed as fishermen and women. A small figure of the governor in a boat with two fish on the end of a line decorated the table. Unabashed by his own "executive chamber" clothes, the governor now 57, joined in the merriment.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—One man is dead, another dying, and a third in Emergency Hospital seriously wounded today after a shooting fray in a Depew tavern.

Police said they have not been able to identify the dead man, struck down by a single shot.

Walter Dulski, 36, of Buffalo, was reported dying of two wounds in the abdomen, and Charles Bako, 25, of Depew, is in serious condition with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Chief of Police Gustave E. Kanehl of Depew said Chester Glancz, 39, owner of the tavern, had admitted the shooting late last night. He was held without charge.

Men and women throughout New York state are collecting and boiling maple sap this month. Some of it already has reached the market. Large quantities are still to come, however, to supply a demand which seems assured of increasing.

Wolman is Anxious To Resign Position

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)
Washington, March 29.—Informed circles said today that Dr. Leo Wolman, chairman of the automobile labor board, intends to resign as soon as he can obtain President

Roosevelt's consent. Wolman, whose board's policies are criticized by the American Federation of Labor, which threatens a strike in the huge industry, told friends of his intention on a recent flying visit to the capital. Whether he would take another administration post has not been made known. First as chairman of the labor advisory board at NRA and then as head of the auto board, Wolman has been with the government for nearly two years. He is generally known as an adviser to both the President and Secretary Perkins on labor relations problems.

The White House agreement between the auto manufacturers and the Federation just a year ago took Wolman to Detroit to put into effect the "proportional representation" plan of employee representation.

Last fall the Federation withdrew from the agreement and now is demanding "majority rule."

SECRET OF SPHINX NEARER SOLUTION

Work of Vandals Proves Aid to Archeologists.

Cairo, Egypt.—The ageless riddle of Egypt's sphinx was declared nearer an answer as archeologists examined fresh evidence given them unwittingly by robbers whose vandalism uncovered the nearby tomb of a hitherto unknown Egyptian queen.

The new addition to the fabulous women who preceded Cleopatra as first lady of the Nile is Queen Rekheta, who lived in 3000 B. C. Her tomb was unearthed close to the famous Giza pyramids by a robber band that stole from the burial place all that was immediately convertible into cash.

To reach the tomb across which the hands of centuries had sifted, the robbers uncovered construction details of the sphinx, the 180-foot lion-bodied, woman-headed idol, to the sun. Heretofore available scientific data has placed construction of the Sphinx at approximately 2850 B. C. in the fourth dynasty. The new evidence may eventually prove some connection between the brooding, broken-nosed woman of the sands and Queen Rekheta.

Thus the Sphinx, archeological and mystic puzzle for ages, may be really older than hitherto believed, but not older than 3000 B. C.

Also, the new evidence points strongly to the possibility that the Sphinx was not built out of solid rock, cropping out of the desert, but out of rock that was transported by a superhuman feat of engineering to its present site—facing the rising sun in the shadow of those companion wonders of the world, the Pyramids.

They traveled from Japan to London, from London to Norway, and from Cape North (Norway), the northernmost point in Europe, to Capetown.

It has taken them five years to do it—and that means that they have averaged nearly 480 miles a week for the whole of the five years.

In a travel-stained car, bearing badges of every nation and packed to the roof with equipment and many weird curios, they drove nonchalantly through Capetown, looking for somewhere to rest.

"We have been on the road for five years," they said. "We are collecting material for books and lectures. At the end of the month we shall leave for America to prepare some of this, but we shall return in 1936 to undertake another trip planned in the reverse direction."

During their trip they have worn out five different cars.

Spare tanks fitted to the running boards have enabled them to carry gasoline and oil for 500 miles at a time.

Throughout the whole journey, they only four times used the means of transport other than their car—twice to cross the English channel, once to cross from Italy to Tunis, and again to cross the River Juba, Africa.

Battle of New Orleans

Second Only to Yorktown

New Orleans.—The Plains of Chalmette, just below New Orleans, where Andrew Jackson fought the Battle of New Orleans in 1815 and brought to an end the War of 1812, are being beautified, marked and made more readily accessible through an added PWA appropriation of $48,000.

This announcement was made in Washington on the heels of a report from the Tennessee commission of research ranking the Battle of New Orleans as second only to Yorktown as a military event of significance in the life of the republic.

"But for Jackson's victory at New Orleans," says the Tennessee report, "England might have laid claim to the vast Louisiana domain . . . now carved into 17 United states . . . on the ground of invalidity of title acquired by the United States from Napoleon at New Orleans in 1803."

New Soviet Railroad in

Caucasus Just Completed

Moscow.—As a part of the Soviet union's program of railroad expansion a new line has just been completed between Brouela and Gumbri. It runs through a newly developed region in the Transcaucasian republic. Built under the auspices of the OGPU, the road was constructed largely by convict labor. As a result of their good work many of the prisoners have now been freed and given passports to establish their status as respectable soviet citizens. The economic importance of the new line is that it will furnish transportation for gumbrin, a mineral used by the oil industry which is found in quantity in the region served by the railroad.

Rooster Has Two Hearts,

Each Working by Itself

East Windsor, Conn.—When Emil Mulline killed one of his choice roosters for dinner he found it had two normal sized hearts, each operating independently of the other. The only other abnormality was an enlarged liver. The rooster, he said, did not differ in outward appearance from others of a flock hatched last spring.

The estimated farm population of New York state on February 1 is listed at 753,000, as compared with 755,000 a year ago and 720,000 in 1920. This increase is noted despite the 22,000 men and boys who left farms for other kinds of work during the year ending February 1, 1935.

Prisoners Taken To Institutions

Walter Schlangenweith, who entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, for the entering of Greenkill Lodge early this month, was taken on Thursday to Napanoch Institution for Male Defective Delinquents by Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg. An order of examination was entered Thursday morning by Justice Russell after the defendant had pleaded guilty.

Three other prisoners who were sentenced to Clinton State Prison at Dannemora Thursday by Justice Russell were taken to that institution today by Jailer Abram Molyneux. Those taken were Irving Keator, a second offender who was given a ten year term for burglary; Jesse Crispell, also a second offender, who was sentenced to five years for larceny; and Bernard Maines, who was given ten years as a second offender on a forgery charge.

The three Kingston youths, who were sentenced to Elmira Reformatory for the holding up Floyd Weeks at his grocery store here remain at the county jail awaiting the arrival of a transfer officer from that institution who is expected here by the first of the week.

3 Persons Burned To Death at Woburn

Woburn, Mass., March 29 (AP).—Mrs. Catherine Mercon, 49, her daughter, Virginia, 10, and grandson, Francis, six months, burned to death in a fire that swept a two family house at 15 Arcadia road, three miles from the center of the city, early today.

Five other members of the Mercon family, the father, John T. Mercon, and four sons, Francis, 24, Vincent, 18, Paul 16, and Lawrence, 13, escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coubleday and their three children, occupants of the first floor apartment, also escaped.

The fire was discovered by Double-day, who was awakened by crackling flames. He aroused members of his own family and then rushed to the four-room Mercon apartment on the upper floor in an effort to awaken them. The father and four boys of the Mercon family reached a rear bedroom window and fled to a sun porch, thence to the ground.

Mrs. Mercon and her daughter, Virginia, Sergeant William H. Queney, of the Woburn police said, were trapped in the rear bedroom, off the sun porch, as they made efforts to reach the porch. The baby, in an adjoining bedroom, burned to death in a baby carriage.

Italian Profiteers Will Be Shot to Death

Milan, Italy, March 29 (AP).—War-time profiteers in Italy will be stood up against a wall and shot, Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Popolo D'Italia, said today.

The newspaper, after chronicling a serious rise in prices in the last few weeks, said:

"Those who decided to launch themselves in wicked adventures are mistaken if they think there is any possibility today of renewing the greedy profits of the past."

"Rather it is better they should know formally that whenever the possibility of war profits arises, we will begin immediately to place some persons against the wall in the first two days or, better still, two days before."

This statement coincided with an order sent out by the Fascist Party secretary, Achille Starace, to all provincial secretaries to watch the increase in prices to ascertain how much is due to natural economic reasons.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, March 29.—The Ladies' Guild of St. Peter's Church of Stone Ridge will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Terwilliger and Mr. and Mrs. William Freer of Poughkeepsie were callers on Sunday at the home of Robert Freer.

Mrs. Carrie Davis, who has been spending the winter in Florida, is returning home about April 1.

Ann Quick, who has been ill at his home the last few weeks, is much improved.

Mr. Keator and Howard Boeten are treating their houses to a new coat of paint.

Miss Frances Pine was brought home from New Paltz Normal School Monday, where she was taken suddenly ill.

Mrs. Robert Freer had the misfortune to upset a kettle of boiling water over her arm burning it quite badly.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeWitt spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. DeWitt's mother, Mrs. E. Beatty.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Countryman are soon moving to Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford who rented the H. Krum property, have moved in with Mr. Meason.

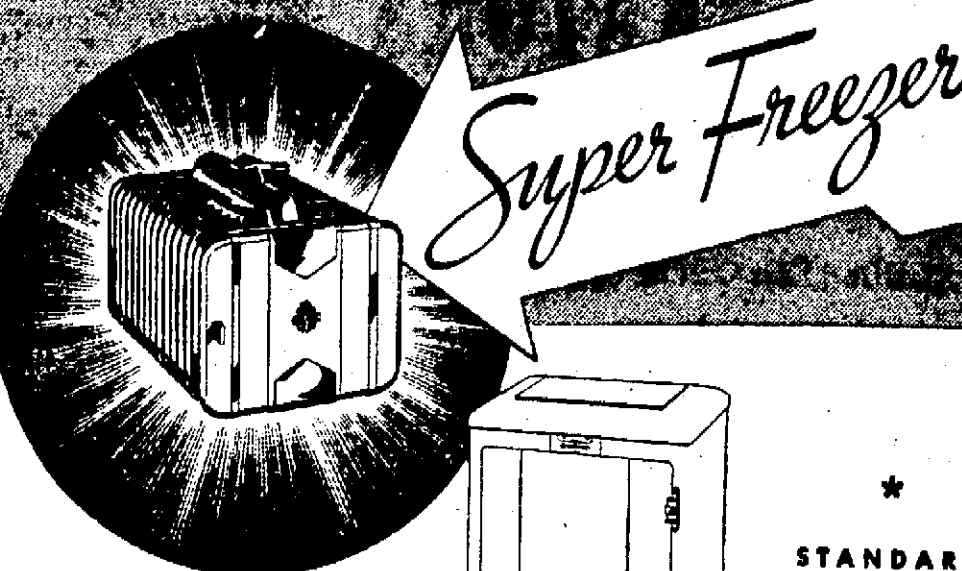

Small Crow's Courtship

Few people have ever had the opportunity of seeing the fantastic and amazing courtship dances of the sandhill crane, and the following description by N. S. Gross in the "History of the Birds of Kansas" is one of the few complete accounts. During the courtship and early breeding season, their actions and antics at times are ludicrous in the extreme. In some cases they are high in the air, hopping, skimming and circling about with drooping wings and croaking whomp, an almost indescribable dance and din, all working themselves up into a fever of excitement, only quelled by an Indian war dance, and the same, it only stops when the last one is exhausted.

House Democrats Get 3 Points to Worry Over

Washington, March 23 (AP).—Three developments added today to the worries of House Democratic leaders who already were having to exert unusual efforts to speed the Roosevelt administration's old-age pension and job-insurance bill. They were:

1. Reports that a modified Townsend pension plan was being drafted and would be offered at the psychological time, probably just before the House takes up the administration bill.
2. An assertion by Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, a Republican leader, that the G. O. P. House members "will have a conference" shortly on the administration's measure.
3. The fact that Rep. Isabella

Greenway (D-Ariz.) has obtained more than 60 Democratic signatures on a petition to force a party caucus on the question of lifting old-age pensions out of the administration bill and passing them in a hurry, letting the other things take a slower course.

The Townsend pension plan originally called for a 2 per cent tax on all business transactions to finance payments of $200 a month to all persons over 60. Reports were that this plan was being modified to require pensions of "not more than $200," with the added stipulation that any money not spent for pensions should be used to retire the public debt.

Who would introduce the bill, and precisely when, was still problematical. But the Townsend plan drive for weeks worried the more conservative leaders. They conceded, privately, that the "hair" of paying off the public debt—a provision not in the original bill—might increase the difficulties.

The Republicans have not taken an official party position on the administration's bill.

"Move-the-Movies" Battle Increasing

Hollywood, Calif., March 23 (AP).—The "move-the-movies" battle raged with renewed impetus today as threats and counter-threats flared from the screen capital and the capital of California.

Listening in the distance with attentive ears were the states of New Jersey, Florida, New York, Nevada, and various other spots which would like to land California's motion picture industry, with inducements of a tax-free existence.

Joseph M. Schenck, president of the United Artists and a potent figure in the screen world, brought the controversy to a new head on his return yesterday from a scouting expedition along the eastern seaboard. The bald-headed movie mogul declared bluntly that not only would the industry pack up and leave California if proposed new tax measures are assessed in Sacramento, but added that his fellow motion picture makers would have to be guaranteed tax freedom in years to come.

"This matter," said Schenck, "must be settled definitely and forever, or the move will be on to get away from Hollywood."

Legislators now sitting in Sacramento received Schenck's words with cautious reaction.

"What a bluff," said Assemblyman Boyle of Los Angeles, who favors a state income tax. "Let them move," said Senator Edwards of Orange.

Several days ago Schenck looked over the situation in New York, New Jersey and Delaware. On his return here he declared:

"The time isn't far removed when the production end of the industry will have to get closer to the business end. Hollywood is the back end of the factory and New York the front door."

YOUTH IS KILLED DURING ROBBERY OF FEED MILL

Fulton, N. Y., March 23 (AP).—A series of raids by three youngsters on the petty cash draw in the office of a feed mill ended with the death today of 13-year-old Frank Martin. Police said Frank H. Jennings, 75, proprietor of the mill, admitted shooting the lad last night after an attempt to apprehend the three boys as they left the mill. He told Police Chief Edward Dwyer and District Attorney Harry M. Stacy that on five successive nights cash had been stolen from his mill office. Last night, he said, he hid in a parked automobile and watched the boys enter the mill. He challenged them when they came out, he said, but one of them struck him over the head with a hammer and he pulled the trigger shooting the lad last night after an attempt to apprehend the three boys wounded. The charge entered his back under the left shoulder. The other boys escaped. Jennings was not held. Layoff of 400 Men in Middletown. Announcement was made Thursday that 400 men employed in the O. & W. Railroad shops at Middletown had been laid off indefinitely. The layoff was caused by poor business and the necessity for economy, railroad officials said.

A MESSAGE FROM W. K. KELLOGG

EVERY ONE is interested in the country's improvement. We will have sound economic recovery only when every one does his share.

As we see it our duty is threefold: first to provide the American farmer with a fair market for his crop; second to give employment to as many people as possible; and finally to supply a wholesome food at a low cost.

When we introduced the original Corn Flakes nearly thirty years ago they were spontaneously received. They were crisp and tasted good and they were ready to serve. Year by year we enlarged our factory, hired more workers, bought more premium corn from the farmers.

Two years before NRA we adopted a six-hour working day for our twenty-six hundred employees at good pay. This meant four shifts of six hours and enabled us to give employment to twenty-five per cent more people than in pre-depression times.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are enjoyed daily by millions of people—far more than any other ready-to-eat cereal on the market. We appreciate your preference and will try constantly to give you a better product at greater value. Today you get twice as much in Kellogg's at one-half the price you paid for corn flakes before the war, 1908 to 1914.

Meanwhile both package and product have been steadily improved. Special processes—exclusively our own—keep Kellogg's Corn Flakes oven-fresh and flavor-perfect right to your table. You can buy them at grocers anywhere with full confidence in their guaranteed purity and quality.

We make only one brand of Corn Flakes—Kellogg's—in the red-and-green package.

Appomattox National Park Proposed Seventy Years After Lee Surrender

If proposals of the Appomattox Memorial association materialize, Appomattox courthouse, which burned as it was when this photograph was taken during the war between the states.

Appomattox, Va. (AP)—Not even in stone will Lee and Grant ever meet again on the field they chose for ending the war between the states 70 years ago on April 9.

A proposal for an Appomattox Memorial monument, showing them as they appeared the day "Marse" Robert surrendered his ragged Confederate army, has been abandoned definitely and finally because of the old sores it opened.

Several years ago congress authorized an appropriation of $100,000 for the monument, but the movement got no further. Protesting that such a memorial would be seen in the light of the Union triumph over "common rebels" rather than "patriots of a lost cause," southern people united in a vigorous campaign to prevent its erection.

Field May Be Restored

Joel Flood, former Virginia congressman now serving as chairman of the Appomattox Memorial Park association, says the proposed monument "is definitely out," but that prospects are good for restoration of the battlefield into a national park. He predicts congress will pass a revised bill, eliminating the monument and providing for the park.

The chief patron of the revised measure is Representative Patrick Drewry of Petersburg, Va.

Government engineers have surveyed the battlefield area and recently Arno B. Cammerer, director of the National Park Service, inspected the territory.

Would Restore Old Buildings

The park would embrace about

1,000 acres which could be acquired from the owners without difficulty, says Flood. The site of the historic courthouse and jail is owned by Appomattox county which is ready to donate it to the government for park purposes.

Plans for the park contemplate the restoration of the McLean "Surrender House," the courthouse and the old tavern, and the marking of Lee's and Grant's headquarters.

The McLean house was dismantled for removal to the Chicago World's fair in 1893 but it was never moved. What is left of it is still piled up on the field.

However, it could be reconstructed authentically, for two sets of plans were drawn and adequate photographs were made before the building was torn down.

The old courthouse, was burned before the turn of the century.

"NAPOLEON HOUSE" HONORS DISPUTED

Bitter Battle Waged by Two
New Orleans Factions.

New Orleans.—Two old landmarks in the New Orleans Vieux Carre are waging a bitter battle to win the distinction of having been erected a century and a quarter ago as refuges for the Emperor Napoleon.

Decision given recently by Historian Stanley Clisby Arthur to a dilapidated, little known place at 514 Chartres street, shorn of its decorative iron work, is being hotly contested by the numerous fans of the long-recognized Girod house at the corner of Chartres and St. Louis street, beautifully proportioned, appropriately fitted and topped by an imposing belvedere.

Arthur claims the Girod house was not built until nine years after the little emperor's death, while Gen. Allison Owen, peer among New Orleans Creole architects contends that recently discovered features give the Girod house definite connection with the colorful Bonapartist episode in New Orleans history, when a group of New Orleans' loyalists under the leadership of Dominique Toussaint, lieutenant of pirates, projected an expedition to rescue Napoleon from St. Helena.

The United States commission for the survey of historic buildings apparently has sided with the Girod house advocates because Richard E. Koch, architect supervisor of the government studies, has preserved in photograph and sketch every detail of the architectural beauty of the "fayrite."

It seems now as if the local flouters of tradition are making a determined rally against everything having to do with Napoleon in New Orleans.

They recently published an elaborate statement to prove that the famous New Orleans death mask of Napoleon, reposing in a place of honor in the Capillo museum, along with Doctor Anthonio, the donor, who claimed to have been Napoleon's physician at the time of his death, both are fakes.

Even the names of the Napoleonic streets in uptown New Orleans have suffered from the onslaughts of those who apparently have no respect for the memory of Napoleon. The streets for five blocks on each side of Napoleon avenue were named for the conqueror's famous battles, but "Berlin street" right next to Napoleon avenue has been changed to "General Pershing."

Scientists Study Magic Mirrors From Old Cathay

Cambridge, Mass.—The strange tales Marco Polo brought home from far Cathay are equalled by the story told of a group of 2,200-year-old Chinese mirrors, whose "magical" properties are to be investigated by scientists here.

The mirrors, a recent gift to Fogg museum at Harvard university, are supposed to reflect not only what is in front of them, as do ordinary mirrors, but also to show what is at their back.

Rutherford J. Gettens, museum chemist, and Dr. John Norton, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will study the supposed phenomenon, as well as several other interesting points about the mirrors. Their metallurgical composition will be analyzed to determine whether their unusual brilliance is due to the use of mercury as a polishing agent.

The collection, numbering 42 circular mirrors ranging from three to eight inches in diameter, was given to the museum by James M. Plumer, a Harvard graduate, who is an official in the Chinese customs.

Ohio Man's Onions Tell Him of Future Weather

Westerville, Ohio.—Charles F. Ranker, retired farmer, knows his onions—and thereby lies his uncanny ability for forecasting weather a year in advance.

Ranker's formula is: "I take an onion—three inches across—peel out 12 of the cups and set them in a row east to west. Then I place a teaspoon of salt in each cup at mid-night. New Year's eve, allowing them to lie undisturbed for 12 hours, each hour representing a month.

"When noon comes around the condition of the onion cups indicates the type of weather we will have throughout the year, each cup representing a month.

"A dry cup forecasts a dry month, a damp cup crusting the salt a month of moderate rainfall and one in which water gathers reveals a heavy rainfall."

Egyptian Bride Nervous, Carries Hashish in Bag

Cairo.—A bride, in her full wedding regalia left her house to be married, accompanied by her servants. A detective who happened to be passing, noticed hashish sticking out from a bag she carried. The wedding procession ended at the police station, where the bride stated that she was so nervous at the marriage ceremony that she needed a little "pick-me-up."

Tecumseh "Fired" Wives Who Could Not Make Good

Tecumseh, chief of the Shawnees, had a habit of leaping into matrimony and after a short wedlock dismissing his wife when she failed in one of his exacting demands. Although generous, just and kind, and no matter how fond he might be of her, he would give his wife a ticket of leave if she proved remiss in one responsibility.

For example, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, upon returning to Ohio after his trip to the South, he married one of the most beautiful women in the Shawnee nation—Mamie, who was half white. Soon afterward he asked her to make a paint pouch out of materials he furnished. When she replied that she couldn't make it herself but would get some one to do it for her, Tecumseh immediately ordered the return of the materials, remarking that he would save her the trouble of seeking assistance, as he could do it himself. He then gave her some farewell presents and dismissed her—for good. It was their divorce—just like that.

Running Wires For Police Radio Station

Marshall Miller, superintendent of the Kingston fire alarm system, and Edward Vogt, electrician of the Board of Public Works, are busy making the electrical connections in police headquarters for the new police radio broadcasting station to be installed. The necessary electrical connections will be installed to that when the radio transmitter is received, the concern selling it to the city will be able to hook it up at once. The station will be installed in a soundproof chamber now under construction in police headquarters.

Hunting Elephants for Tusks, Regular Business

The precious white gold of Kenya—elephant's tusks—is protected by government regulations in South Africa, and, like all lucrative trades, has its unlawful and bootlegging channels.

It is for this treasure that natives risk their lives and penetrate the tall grass jungles and forest of the interior, tumbling elephants by the thousands in the dust.

The tusk hunters are divided into two groups, according to a representative of the American Express company—the killers and dead ivory gatherers, the latter industry being the great mystery to the white man. "Dead ivory" is supposed to be derived from 2,000 elephants die a natural death every year in the jungles and forests of Africa. It is an astonishing fact that few big game hunters or explorers have ever discovered a dead elephant.

The natives declare that elephants have a secret death place and are highly superstitious in revealing elephants' cemeteries. It is from these mysterious cemeteries, which the dying elephant is said to stagger to, that the illicit traffic in ivory goes on.

Many Zulu tribesmen, who lie in the deep grass or attack a lone elephant in their crescent moon formation, use the mystic cemetery source as a blind. However, not only do the natives believe in the Ivory Heaven, but big game hunters are human enough to hope that some day they will discover an ivory hoard.

The tusks which are of priceless value comprise the upper incisor tooth grown to enormous proportions, the lower half or three-quarters being solid.

Pearls Will Dissolve in Vinegar, Chemists Assert

Pliny the Elder says in his natural history that Cleopatra once made a wager with Mark Antony that she could spend 10,000,000 sesterces on one entertainment. Having in her earrings two of the largest pearls in the world, she threw one of them into a vessel of vinegar, which she drank as soon as the pearl had dissolved. Plinius, the umpire, immediately declared the queen winner of the wager and refused to let her dissolve the second pearl. Before Cleopatra's time, Pliny informs us, says a writer in the Indianapolis News, Claudius, the son of the actor Arsepus, had done the same at Rome; and, according to Suetonius, the emperor Caligula later exhibited his extravagance by drinking pearls of great price dissolved in vinegar. Some writers regard these stories as fictions.

Like all carbonates, pearls will dissolve in strong vinegar and other weak acids, evolving carbon dioxide and leaving calcium acetate as dissolved salt. According to the United States bureau of chemistry and soils, pearls consist of 91.7 per cent calcium carbonate, 6 per cent organic matter and 2.3 per cent water. Thus they should dissolve in vinegar containing 6 or more per cent of acetic acid. But pearls would dissolve in such vinegar very slowly because of their great hardness. It is not probable that an ordinary pearl would completely dissolve in even strong vinegar in less than three or four hours.—Indianapolis News.

World's Largest Palace
The Vatican in Rome, the residence of the pope, is credited as being the largest and most magnificent palace in the world. It is said to contain about 13,000 apartments of varying sizes, eight grand staircases and 200 smaller ones, and 20 courtyards. Its collections of objects of art and manuscripts are counted as the most famous in the universe.—Pittsburgh Weekly.

Classified AdvertisementsBusiness Activity :: Continued Auto Expansion
Aids February Conditions

(By The Associated Press)

Continued expansion of motor production was credited by the National Industrial Conference Board for the continued improvement of general business conditions in February. As shown by the board's chart general activity was slightly greater in February than in January.

Motor production gained 17 per cent over January, and the first two months of the year automobile output was 62 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

A seasonal decline in electric power output continued in March. The decline in February was 0.2 per cent from the January average, but production was still 6.1 per cent higher than the previous February.

Department store sales rose about 5 per cent in dollar value in February, and 5.6 per cent in physical volume.

Steel production fell off the first of March, halting the rise in February when the rate of operations was 51.6 per cent of capacity against 47.4 per cent in January.

Building and engineering construction awards in February declined notably. In 37 eastern states they were the lowest since April, 1933. The total awards were 22.4 per cent below those of February, 1934.

Rail shipments were 5.4 per cent in February over those of January.

Governor Faced
With Stiff Problem

Settles Down to Whip Recalcitrants Into Line on Remaining Program Measures and Conclude Session as Quickly as Possible.

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—Steadily mounting differences between Governor Herbert H. Lehman and his own party members on proposed major legislation appeared today to be heading New York's legislature into bitter discussions that will prolong the 1935 session until at least April 12.

While the lawmakers scattered to their homes for the week-end as the 13th week ended, Governor Lehman settled down to whip recalcitrants into line on remaining program measures and conclude the session as quickly as possible. His task is not an easy one.

The governor concentrated his efforts on the Democratic proposals for creating a state-wide system of unemployment insurance and reapportioning senate and assembly seats, ten years overdue.

In addition to these two measures, the legislature is faced with:

(1) A score of bills involving New York city taxation and transit unification plans.

(2) A possible test vote in the assembly on ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

(3) Bills proposing to curb nudism in New York state.

(4) Congressional reapportionment, to which there is little opposition but which may require several days discussion.

(5) Governor Lehman's proposal for authorizing a $55,000,000 bond issue for unemployment relief, which may be vigorously opposed by Republicans.

(6) Proposals to strengthen and clarify the Shackett act, the state's NRA enforcement law.

(7) Bills proposing continuation of the state's milk publicity campaign, which may result in a lengthy fight due to considerable opposition.

Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews came to the governor's support in the fight to obtain approval of unemployment insurance with the statement that "the most powerful assistance that can be given to the enactment of the federal bill at this time is the passage of New York's measure."

At the same time he charged that the "tactics of enemies of unemployment insurance have become plain in the past several weeks."

"They have gone to Washington to whittle down the federal bill as much as possible," he said, "thereby delaying it, and have returned to Albany and other state capitals to use the delay as an excuse for doing nothing on state bills."

Senate majority party members have served notice they are standing pat on their demand for an amendment to the job insurance plan to defer its effectiveness until the federal administration adopts nationwide legislation, despite the fact it has been approved by the Lower House with the provision it begin operating next January 1.

The amendment, it is explained, would permit the legislature to repeal the law next year if Congress meantime has not acted.

A lengthy conference late yesterday failed to break the deadlock.

Industrial Commissioner Andrews scoffed at warnings that manufacturers are threatening to leave the state if the bill is enacted.

"New York state," he declared, "with the most progressive labor laws of any of the industrial states, has more than held its own in the industrial field in the past 15 years. Statistical records show that this state is more stable industrially than the country as a whole."

Up to the Forum
"Unlucky children are worthy of close attention," said J. H. H. the sage of Chatham. "They let you know you don't want their parents to die."

ONTARIO WILL GUARD
DIONNE QUINTUPLETS

Plan Board of Guardians to Prevent Exploitation.

Toronto.—The Hepburn government is prepared to create a new board of 80 guardians for the Dionne quintuplets. If such a step is necessary to safeguard them from exploitation.

The Ontario legislature, at its present session, may be asked to constitute itself the protector of the world's most famous babies, and to pass special legislation in their behalf.

This is the answer given by Premier Mitchell Hepburn, to the $1,000,000 suit for breach of contract, filed in Chicago by Ivan I. Spear, promoter, against the parents and guardians of the quintuplets, Hon. A. W. Roebuck, attorney-general of Ontario, and a number of Canadian and American publishing organizations.

Charges Broken Pact.

Spear alleges that three days after the birth of the Dionne babies last May, their father signed a contract giving his organization exclusive rights to exhibit them and all other members of the family, and that this has since been violated.

Hepburn declares that "if there is any action the legislature can take to prevent the exploitation of these babies, we shall avail ourselves of it."

Attorney-General Roebuck has already declared the contract with Spear null and void, and has warned the promoter "he won't have a leg to stand on" if he seeks to press his action. Canadian courts, he declares, would never sanction such a contract, which might place the lives of the five babies in jeopardy.

Guardians Sued, Too.

It was at Roebuck's request that the court of Nipissing district appointed a board of four guardians for the quintuplets—D. A. R. Dufoe, their physician; Oliver Dionne, their grandfather; W. H. Alderson, head of the Red Cross in northern Ontario, and Kenneth Morrison, Callander merchant, and friend of the family. All of these are named as co-defendants in the suit filed by Spear.

Premier Hepburn states he is not concerned as to whether Mr. and Mrs. Dionne appear on the stage or not.

"They have no value, except as the parents of the quintuplets," he says. "But I should be surprised if the American authorities would allow babies to be exhibited on the stage. We would not permit it in Ontario. The whole business is a disgrace, and I deprecate to the fullest extent, the disgusting incidents which have developed. We are not going to let these children get into the hands of self-seeking promoters."

Court Defines Legal Cruelty; Denies Divorce

Carson City, Nev.—The remark, "I made a d—n sight more money before I married you, anyway," doesn't constitute legal cruelty, although it is rude, the Nevada Supreme court ruled in reversing a divorce decree given Mrs. Agnes M. Nielsen from Perry A. Nielsen of Santa Maria, Calif.

"More austerity of temper, reticence of manner," the court continued, "trudeness of language, a want of civil attention and accommodation, even occasional sallies of passion, if they do not threaten bodily harm do not amount to legal cruelty."

Among Mrs. Nielsen's accusations to prove the charge of cruelty was that Nielsen told her several times, "You could stand to do a lot more work."

French Menace.

Nancy, France, March 23 (AP).—Reservists of all branches of the French army, totaling some 32,000 men, were concentrated today at Bithme on the old German frontier, for these "march" maneuvers.

Heavy Spending Seen
by Fashionable Women

New York, March 29 (AP).—For rustling petticoats, furred suits, fluffy blouses and what-not—in short, for Easter parade finery—women are expected to spend more this spring than they have for several years.

The reasons range from superficially dull business statistics to the gay fact that women's attire this spring is unusually feminine. Men will be willing to write larger checks than usual, say the clothes creators, because the little capes and sheer blouses have heart appeal.

Another reason is given by William J. Pedrick, president of the Fifth Avenue Association, which comprises 500 firms in the midtown district. He said today:

"Some women have been wearing the same spring outfit for several years, and many of them feel they need a new one at this time."

Reports of increasing employment and fatter payrolls—the national industrial conference board estimated the country's unemployed number 3,158,000 less this month than in March, 1933—are echoed by those of increasing retail sales.

The economically minded will buy three-piece suits, using the coat as an extra spring garment, or dark, fitted, dress-like coats to wear over a bright print dress.

For larger budgets are fur capes, "spring's most romantic fashion," exquisite sheer blouses that show dainty lingerie, and such diversions as gingham raincoats and life-like radishes worn instead of flowers.

It's a great navy blue daytime season, but at night, out will come a new orange called "tiger lily", and also shrimp pink, smoke gray and poison green, in the "peacock silhouette," which shows the feet in front and trails behind.

Since March 15 came and went, Congress seems to have forgotten all about repealing that pesky Pink Slip.

LIVE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACGER

New York, March 29 (AP)—Financial markets received the news of Belgium's devaluation with equanimity today, and encouraged by several bright spots in the domestic economic picture steered a fairly steady course.

Stocks received their greatest inspiration from railroad shares and pivotal industries, although the early backwardness of utilities and some of the metals was disappointing.

Union Pacific and Santa Fe assumed leadership at the beginning of trading and worked up about a point before yielding part of the advantage. New York Central, Southern Pacific, Delaware and Hudson and Pennsylvania were among others following along with smaller advances.

Shares of the St. Paul were active at declines ranging around 1/4 of a point.

Other specialties were brought out at higher prices including aluminum, aluminum and brass. Others prominent on the ship included U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, General Electric, Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil of N. J. and National Distillers.

Enemies of Starlings
Among the enemies of starlings may be mentioned any of the songbirds and the great horned owl. Mammals such as the weasel and squirrel attack the nests especially. Several types of birds, which are natural enemies of the starling, but not of the starling, because of the latter's greater size and aggressive nature, are the hawk, the magpie and the jay.

Van Zeeland Seeks Backing for Program

(By The Associated Press)

Premier Van Zeeland of Belgium told the Parliament at Brussels that immediate devaluation of not more than 20 per cent in the belga was necessary at once and asked the legislators for a vote of confidence in this program.

All houses in Belgium have been closed for the week-end and when trading resumes Monday the gold value of the belga will be 75 per cent of its previous worth.

The government leader announced at the same time that Belgium would suspend gold payments pending an international agreement on currency policy, thereby virtually ending Belgium's alignment with the gold bloc—the European nations who remain on gold as the standard of their currency.

From both Amsterdam and Rome came announcements that the monetary policies of the Netherlands and Italy would not be affected by the Belgian action.

Led by the belgia, all gold currencies declined in value in relation to the British pound on the London foreign exchange market and the United States dollar slipped in sympathy.

Officials in Paris said French determination to keep to the gold standard has remained unshaken. The opposition to the government, however, predicted a crisis within a few months.

Spanish treasury officials characterized as without foundation reports of the devaluation of the peseta. Some Leftist newspapers advocate the move.

Shifting of Tidal Load Keeps Experts Guessing

The earth is far from being finished in the sense that a sculptor says that he has finished a statue for exhibition. Winds are continually brushing away dust from one place and depositing it on another; rushing streams are wearing away the hardest granite; strata are slipping here and there in an effort to bring about equilibrium and to level huge mountains. When all this pitting, molding and scraping is over the earth will be finished in more senses than one. It will be dead, as a writer in the New York Times.

Among the forces that thus affect the earth are those exerted by the tides. Bulges of water course around the earth—two bulges—every 24 hours as the result of the moon's attraction. It is just as if a load slipped over the earth's crust. Where the load happens to be at the moment there must be a hollow in the crust—a hollow like that produced in a rubber ball pressed in at opposite sides by the hand. When the hand is released the ball springs back into shape. So does the earth when the tidal bulge moves on.

The White Terrier

The striking white terrier, whose ancestors were white English terriers and bulldogs, has been bred with wonderful success within these shores in recent years. The home-breds have held, and will hold their own with any imported to this country. Therefore, it is natural that many fanciers here desire the Bullterrier to remain the "White Cavalier," as it has been described in poetic verse so many times.

Governor Signs Bill Outlawing Heart Balm

Albany, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—New York state today abolished its heart balm laws on the ground that they had been abused and made an instrument of blackmail.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman unexpectedly signed the drastic McNaboe bill which gives New Yorkers with broken hearts 60 days to bring damage suits. After May 28 New York state residents are forbidden to sue for breach of promise, alienation of affection, seduction or criminal conversation.

New York's legislature overwhelmingly approved the bill earlier this month. Senator John J. McNaboe, New York Democrat, told the lawmakers that "men of high position" were made the targets of "gold-digging" racketeers.

The new law makes it a criminal offense for anyone to attempt to collect damages through the courts or otherwise.

The only exception besides that permitting suits to be brought within the next two months is one providing that a future breach of any contract now in existence may be made grounds for a suit.

Sharks Found 200 Miles In.—Sharks, which usually are deep-sea fish, have been found thriving 200 miles from the ocean in the Patuxent river of Central America.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, March 29.—Pastor Oscar H. Lockett of Olive Bridge was unable, due to a cold, to attend the prayer meeting scheduled Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard Bell of Main street.

Joe Steinlauf of Main street, popular Olive TERRA foreman, has recovered from a severe ailment to his back.

Contractor Albert North has the contract to erect a bungalow at West Shokan Heights for Richard Lange of Yonkers. Building sand has already been hauled to the site by a local truckman.

The sapling season seems to have pretty well petered out, and local producers have gathered their buckets. Due to the early season maple syrup is of an excellent quality. Judge Fred L. Weidner reports a healthy demand for his product.

Mrs. Blanche Besslodney of Long Island City, long popular among Maple Dell summer visitors, is enjoying a spring vacation at this well known and kindly hostelry.

Alonso Haver, the veteran Shokan Ford dealer, recently sold one of the latest type sedans to Wallace J. Andrews, of Oliveville. Mr. Haver has held the Ford agency in Olive since the early years of the Model T industry.

Joe Winkler, popular assistant at the Camp Wienecke canteen, is ill at his home at Bushkill Inn. He is under the care of Dr. Hans J. Cohn of Shokan.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Every of Traver Hollow called on Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Bedell of Shokan, who are not well.

The annual spring clean up along Main street is attractively noticed by passers by. Marvin Van DeMark, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, Egbert Boice, John Henriksen, Charles Barber and other proprietors show their pride of ownership.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons of Ashokan and Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall of Olive Bridge were among guests entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Davis of Main street.

A coming social event is the spring dance which will be held Thursday evening, April 4, at Olive Bridge I. O. O. F. Hall under the auspices of Olive Rebekah Lodge, No. 470. A brief lodge session will be held at 8 o'clock. Dancing from 9 till 1. Everybody cordially welcome.

Mildred Roe of West Shokan Heights, who has been ill for several days, is now feeling much improved.

St. Clair Barnes of Malby Hollow road, was a caller about town Thursday morning. He reports being laid up with a severe cold for a couple of weeks and is happy to be about again.

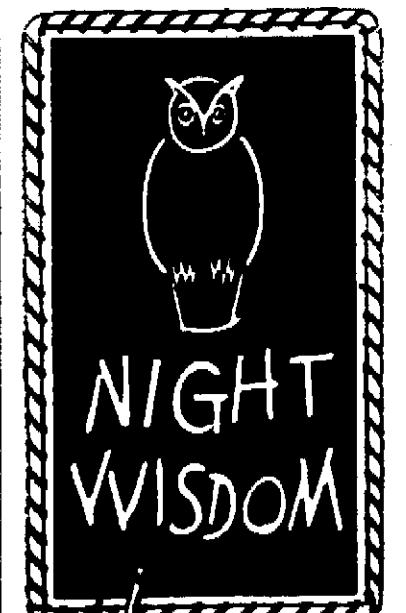

County Treasurer Pratt Boice has again been serviced with his annual supply of good old native Olive maple syrup by Judge Fred L. Weidner.

A number of visitors were delightfully entertained Wednesday at the Ladies' Aid quilting and luncheon held at the church basement. They were Mrs. E. Henry and Mrs. Fetter of Kingston, Mrs. Rachel Kerr and daughter, Jennie, Mrs. Theodore Kerr, all of West Hurley. Mrs. Henry recently returned from spending the winter in Florida.

Cornelia Davis spent Wednesday night with her high school chum, Miss Catherine Roe, at West Shokan Heights.

During the last week in March, 1913, the farewell dance was held in the Pythian Hall in the old village of West Shokan. The hall was built in the early gay nineties and during the years of its existence was a mecca for shows, church fairs, suppers, entertainments, dances, political rallies, Farm Bureau meetings, elections, lectures and what not. In the fall of 1910 a group of the Board of Water Supply engineers installed a bowling alley in the basement which was removed from Brodhead where for a number of years it had served for the amusement of the Willow Brook House summer visitors.

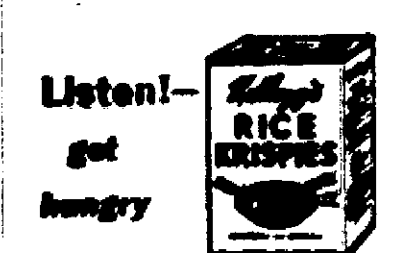

Johnson's Final Blast.
Okmulgee, Okla., March 29 (AP)—Gen. Hugh Johnson's senatorial ambitions—if he has any—were laid aside temporarily today as he prepared a final blast at Father Coughlin to be given Saturday night over the radio. $2,321.84 Reported In S. A. Campaign

Reports up to this noon brought the total subscriptions in the campaign to raise funds for the Salvation Army up to $2,321.84.

The men's division showed more signs of life in the reports today, turning in a total of $81.50, but they were still far behind the workers of the women's division, who turned in $150.20. The executive committee reported receipts of $60.

After considerable discussion it was decided to omit the noon luncheon meeting Saturday, giving the members of the various teams the full day to work in before making their reports. A meeting will be held at five o'clock in the afternoon, however, when tea will be served and all members are asked to be present at this time so that a full report of subscriptions for the campaign week may be secured.

About The Folks

The Rev. W. J. Gratton has returned to New York after spending a few days at his home, 108 Emerson street.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler and son, Nicholas J. Fowler, sailed Thursday on the steamship Monarch of Bermuda for Bermuda, expecting to be absent from home ten days.

Jay B. Ellis, who has been confined in a hospital in Bath, N. Y., was discharged from that institution last week and on Monday was in Kingston visiting his mother, Mrs. George Post, of 87 Ten Broeck avenue, and his sister, Mrs. Lester Norton, of 62 Ten Broeck avenue. Later he left here for Baltimore, Maryland.

Trombone Important Instrument
The trombone is a most important instrument in picturing heroic emotions, as its tones in orchestral work may be made grand and noble. It may portray almost every broad emotion, from sacred calm to the wildest strains of martial glory. It also has a threatening quality, and its sombre tones are excellent for tragic effects. Mendelssohn admired the trombone very much, reserving it for the most solemn occasions. Schubert obtained good effects by using soft trombone tones against the strings. With the use of the slide the trombone can get down to the lowest F on pianos; and this tonal growl is found in Wagner's opera "Siegfried."

Birds Fly High
Migrating birds travel at heights of three, four, and even five thousand feet. It appears that they rise in order to find favorable winds. Wild ducks, geese, and swans have been seen a mile high, but as a rule prefer to fly at about two thousand feet. The rulture and the turkey buzzard hang up at four to five thousand feet, watching the earth for carrion with their telescopic eyes. The record belongs to the giant condor of the Andes which flies in the thin cold air five miles above the plains.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Earth's Hardest Bump
The hardest recorded bump this earth ever received came from a meteorite or comet which crashed into a Siberian forest on June 30, 1908. The mass weighed about 40,000 tons and the explosive violence of its impact felled all trees within a 35-mile circle, a total of 50,000,000 trees in an area of 3,850 square miles. The air waves even reached Washington, D. C., and pictures were taken in Scotland at midnight on July 2 by the light of its fiery dust.—Collier's Weekly.

Outlook Bright for City League This Year

Seven Teams Represented at Meeting in City Hall to Discuss Formation of Loop—Others Invited to Next Session on April 4.

Judging from the attendance at the meeting in the city hall Thursday evening all indications point to a reorganization of the old City Baseball League which flourished for a long stretch of years until last season.

Many of the old fans and a few new ones were present to discuss the chances of organizing the league again and all seven representatives of teams who took the floor seemed anxious to get the loop going.

The seven teams represented and the men who spoke for them were as follows:

Knights of Columbus, Bob Donnarumma.
Schrayer Lumber Company, Don Schrayer.

U. P. A. John Weiss.
Hercules, George Walker.
Wood, J. B. Walker.
Crystal Beauty Shoppe, Fred Davis.

North Rondout Social Club, Jimmy DeCicco.

It is expected that a team might be entered by the Jacob Forst Packing Company with Herb Mills as the manager.

The meeting adjourned until Thursday, April 4, to allow more teams to enter.

Passaic Club Looks Good in Tournament

Glens Falls, N. Y., March 29 (AP).—The spotlight turned toward the Passaic, N. J. High School quintet today as four remaining teams in the eastern state scholastic basketball championships prepared for the semi-final round tonight.

The Passaic club nosed out the Mont Pleasant High School team of Schenectady last night 37 to 35 in the outstanding game of the 16th renewal of the basketball championships. Both former winners of the tournament, they staged a nip and tuck battle until the final whistle.

Trailing in the closing minutes of the final period, the Passaic team scored five points in five minutes and won the right to meet Brown Academy of Philadelphia, Pa., in the semi-finals tonight.

Brown advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Academy 45 to 33.

The other two teams who meet in the semi-finals tonight are East High of Washington, D. C., and St. Francis High of Brooklyn.

Top Ranking Golfers To Compete In Second Annual 'Masters' Tourney

The cream of the country's golfing talent will compete in the second annual "Masters" golf tournament at the course of the Augusta National Golf Club, Augusta, Ga., April 4 to 6, with Bobby Jones making his annual appearance in competition. Jones, who retired after his grand slam in winning both open and amateur titles in this country and England in 1930, helped design the course and now competes only in the Augusta tourney. Other golfers competing include: Lawson Little, 1934 British and U. S. amateur champion; Charles Yates, 1934 National intercollegiate champion, and a host of other high ranking golfers, including Tommy Armour, Harry Cooper and Paul Runyan will compete. Gould Picks Tigers To Win Pennant Again In American

By ALLAN GOULD.

Associated Press Sports Editor.

New Orleans, March 29 (AP).—

Peel off the outer surface of the spring training season's "grapefruit" and you will find it looks like a wide-open race in the American League this year—for second place—unless some effective method is found to disrupt the iron-bound confidence of the Detroit Tigers.

Mickey Cochrane's "Battering Bengals" dominated the circuit from the midway mark of the 1934 race and won going away. Unnamed by their world series beating, the Tigers have the stuff to repeat. They are the only club in the league now presenting a solid, grade "AAA" front in the three payoff departments—pitching, power and defense.

What Others Think.

Naturally, other American League camps do not concede the Tigers are so outstanding. In them this observer has found two distinct schools of thought. One holds that the Tigers landed on top last season, not because they had so much class themselves but because their foremost challengers blew up at critical stages. The second and louder rebuttal is based on the belief that Detroit's "luck" in 1934 was entirely too good to last and that the law of baseball "percentages" will catch up with the champions rapidly this year.

Cochrane's crew was phenomenally fortunate in escaping injuries to any regulars in their leap from fifth place to the top within one year. It is equally true the team lacks reserve strength again this year, especially in the infield and outfield. It may also be conceded that a number of the Tiger pennant stars, including Schoolboy Rowe, Marvin Owen, Billy Rogell, Goose Goslin and Hank Greenberg, had exceptional years.

Some may not repeat. If anything happened to break up the infield, the club would be in a difficult hole, but such speculation does not alter the present fact that the Tigers figure to repeat.

Indians Handicapped

There are far bigger "ifs" connected with the chances of all the other contenders. Walter Johnson's Cleveland Indians shaped up as the strongest challenger until Billy Knickerbocker, star shortstop and key man of a youthful infield, was felled by Old Man Appendix. Unless, and until, Knickerbocker returns in shape to pick up where he left off in 1934 as the league's best young shortstop or unless the club is lucky enough to obtain an experienced replacement, the Tribe will be severely handicapped.

Cleveland and the New York Yankees, both substantially rebuilt within the past year or two, are the coming clubs, regardless of where they finish this year. The Yankees have more speed than power now but their pitching staff, with the veteran Pat Malone just added to it, will keep the club in the race. George Selkirk will not make New York's fans forget Babe Ruth in right field.

Too Many Uncertainties

So many uncertain factors involve the chances of the Boston Red Sox, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Washington Senators, that it is possible only to guess what these three "dark horses" will do when the boys begin playing for keeps. All should figure in the scramble for first division berths.

Despite Rogers Hornsby's able and aggressive leadership, the St. Louis Browns haven't the stuff to go anywhere. The Chicago White Sox, equally handicapped and obliged to depend on some ancient pitching arms, can't expect even an Al Simmons to propel them upward this year.

Latest News from The Baseball Front

(By The Associated Press).

Mobile, Ala.—The New York Giants' pitching "big four" seems effective as ever this year. In 63 innings hurled by Carl Hubbell, Hal Schumacher, Freddy Fitzsimmons and Roy Parmelee, the opposition has been held to less than 1½ earned runs for each nine stanzas, a pennant-winning figure in any league.

Clearwater, Fla.—Cutting of the New York Yankees, squad has begun with the release of pitchers Howard (Red) Egan and Mike Sanlinson to the Newark Bears. Jesse Hill appears to have won a Major League berth and the signing of Dixie Walker to a regular contract indicated outfield Myril Hoag may be the next to go.

Kissimmee, Fla.—Another reason why the Dodgers have been making life miserable for their exhibition game rivals this spring is the added speed of Tony Cuccinello. Tony, never noted for his spryness afoot, has been covering more ground than ever around second base, has stretched a couple of singles into doubles and even has pilfered a couple of bases.

Tucson, Ariz.—George Earnshaw, whose goal this season is 20 pitching victories—ten of which would be worth $500 each under the terms of his bonus contract with the Chicago White Sox—is working overtime to master a trade secret whispered to him by Waite Hoyt of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The new batter is called the "slider." Hoyt learned it from Heinie Meine, and it worked so well that he led the Pirate pitchers last season. Earnshaw tried it for the first time in actual combat yesterday as he held the Pirates to three hits in four innings.

Los Angeles—The threat of being demoted to a part-time job in the Chicago Cub outfield has stirred Chuck Klein into a hitting mood.

A week ago Manager Charlie Grimm hinted that Klein would play as long as the opposition pitching was done right-handed. Since then, the former Phillie who cost the Cubs around $100,000, has been connecting. Yesterday he got a home run, double and a single in three times at bat. The day before he hit for the circuit—a southpaw.

Bowlers Gather for Banquet and Prizes

First Annual Gathering Addressed by Mayor Heiselman and City Judge Culliton—Newburgh Wine Championship; Other Honors Listed.

Fifty members and guests attended the first annual banquet of the Hudson Valley Bowling League at the Stuyvesant Hotel Thursday night for a turkey dinner and speeches made by celebrated guests introduced by Peter Keresman, captain of the Kingston Emericks, who was the toastmaster.

Speakers from Kingston were Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman and City Judge Bernard A. Culliton. Frank Mellis, president of the board of aldermen, spoke for Middletown and Brown Hunter of that city, who was elected president of the league, previous to the banquet, also addressed the gathering.

The full slate of officers elected for the 1935-'36 season follows:

President, Brown Hunter of Middletown.
Vice-president, Cecil Rhodes, Newburgh.
Treasurer, Ed. Richburgh, Walden.
Secretary, Charles Tiano, Kingston.

Chairman Keresman reviewed the accomplishments of the league in his opening the program and suggested that eight clubs be considered next season. President elect Hunter had a number up at the first meeting to plan for next fall, which will be held at Walden on August 21.

Mayor Heiselman, proud to be at the gathering, he said glorified the league as a means of stimulating closer friendship between the communities represented and put in a good word for the sport of bowling. Judge Culliton's talk dealt mainly with sportsmanship and important part bowling plays among the pastimes of the nation for old and young.

After the banquet prizes were awarded to individuals and teams that went through the season with honors.

Records show Newburgh as the championship team. The standing of the clubs and other lists of high scorers follow:

Leafs and Maroons Loom as Finalists

New York, March 29 (AP).—The prospect for the first all-Canadian final for the Stanley Cup since 1924 loomed today as the Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Maroons headed toward the last round of the National Hockey League playoff series.

The Leafs took the lead in their series with the Boston Bruins for the league championship and one of the places in the final round for the world's title last night by winning the third game of the playoff 3 to 4.

The Maroons meanwhile gained a 2 to 1 edge over the New York Rangers in their two-game "semi-final" round, to be decided on a total goal basis. The Maroons previously had eliminated the Chicago Blackhawks, last year's Stanley Cup winners, and the Rangers had beaten the Montreal Canadiens.

The two finalists may be decided tomorrow when Boston and Toronto clash on the Maple Leaf's ring in the fourth encounter of their best-three-out-of-five series and the Rangers and Maroons wind up their struggle at Montreal.

The Maple Leafs, who lost the first game 1-0 in overtime and won the second 2-4, looked more impressive than ever as they took the third from Boston. Choked on by a near record crowd of 14,218, they scored in the first minute of play.

The Maroons, who spotted the Rangers the first goal when Ben Costello slipped an early shot in, tied the count before the first period ended, took the lead in the second, then locked the door on their goal by superb defensive play.

Montreal's youngsters had entirely too much speed for the Ranger veterans.

Reynoldstown Winner Today in the Classic Grand National Race

Aintree, Eng., March 29 (AP).—Reynoldstown, a 25 to 1 shot, owned and ridden by Major Noel Furlong, today won the 97th running of the Grand National Steeplechase. Blue Prince was second and John Hay Whitney's American-owned Thomond, 2nd, third.

Golden Miller, the heavy choice and winner last year, fell the first time around the course after being up with the leaders during the early stages of the race.

Reynoldstown, which receded in the waging during the last few days, was never far off the pace, as Uncle Batt, a rank outsider, showed the way at the half-way mark. Reynoldstown was in fifth place and steadily moved up during the latter stages of the journey. Blue Prince, also an outsider, is owned by Lady Lindsey.

Thomond 2nd, third also last year, led over the final jump, but failed badly in the final 300-yard dash to the finish line. Reynoldstown pulled away after the final fence to win by three lengths while Blue Prince was eight lengths in front of the American-owned horse. On the second time around the two-mile course, Reynoldstown took the lead from Thomond 2nd, at Becher's Brook with Blue Prince third. Whitney's Jumper moved to the front again at the Canal turn, however, and apparently had the race well in hand when he weakened in the final dash.

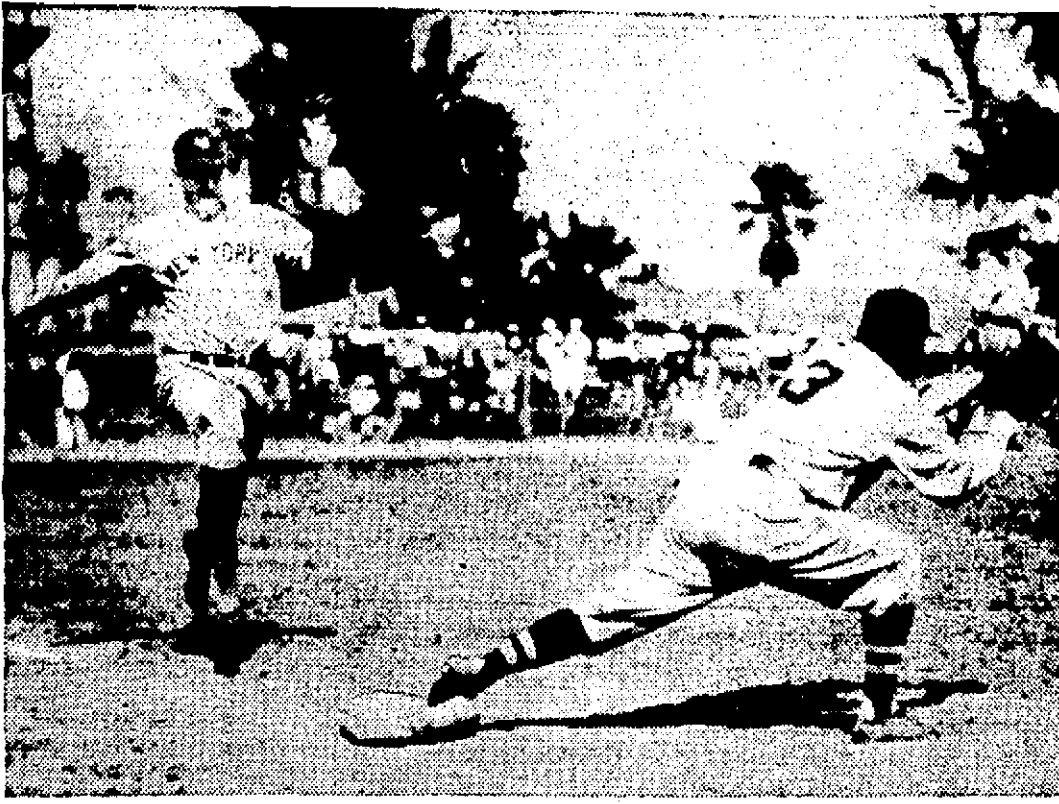

Reynoldstown carried 158 pounds, 14 more than was packed by Blue Prince, one of the lightweights of the field of 27. Thomond 2nd had 154 pounds in the saddle with Jackey Speck handling the reins. Blue Prince closed at 40 to 1 and Thomond 2nd at 9 to 2.

Only six finished the course. Lady Beets was fourth, Uncle Batt, fifth, and Bachelor Prince, sixth. The four other American-owned entries, including Castle Irwell, owned and ridden by George H. (Pete) Boatwick, fell either the first or second time around the course.

Nobody in the main stand knew when Golden Miller went down but thousands gasped disappointment when he failed to appear the first time past the judges' stand. The bookmakers danced with joy.

The Boatwick-Castle Irwell combination looked great the first time around, running a strong second to Uncle Batt. The American sportsman dropped out of competition quickly, however, as Thomond 2nd, Blue Prince and the winner moved to the front.

The three leaders took the next to the last hurdle almost together and then Thomond 2nd forged to the front by a narrow margin. He was unable to stand the pace, however. When the first three horses crossed the finish line, no other horse was in sight.

Golden Miller fell at the first fence after Valentine's Brook on the first trip around the course. Reynoldstown was clocked in nine minutes and 21 seconds, one second slower than the record established by Golden Miller last year.

Daddy Vance Released

Bradenton, Fla., March 29 (AP).—Daddy Vance, the National League's most valuable player in 1935, was given his unconditional release by the St. Louis Cardinals today. Joe Louis Fights In Detroit Tonight

Detroit, March 29 (AP).—Joe Louis, Detroit's unbeaten negro heavyweight, who has signed to meet Primo Carnera in New York this summer, headlines the fight card at Olympia tonight, meeting Natte Brown of Washington over the 10 round distance.

Advance notice that Brown would be one of the hardest fighters he has met in his brief career in the professional ring, drew from Louis the admission that he knew he had a "tough one" to handle. He added he felt confident of making Brown his seventeenth consecutive victim.

Louis has won 13 fights via the knockout route and won three by decisions.

This year and Manager Frankie Frisch today told him he was free to look for work with another club.

Fish and Game Open Meeting Here April 3

The Ulster County Fish and Game Association, headquarters 328 Wall street, made public today the fact that Sumner M. Cowden, superintendent of fish culture, New York State Conservation Department, would be the speaker of the evening at an open meeting of the association to be held Wednesday evening, April 3, in the county court house. Mr. Cowden will talk about the work the Conservation Department is doing and bring general conservation information of interest to all. The letter confirming Mr. Cowden's appearance follows.

State of New York
Conservation Department
Albany

March 25, 1935.
Mr. Benjamin J. Winne, Pres.,
Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:
With further reference to your letter of March 18th and my reply under date of the 23rd, I am glad to advise you that Mr. Sumner M. Cowden, Superintendent of Fish Culture, will address the members of your association on Wednesday night, April 3, at 7:45 p. m., in the court room of your county court house.

Yours very truly,
JOHN L. HALPIN,
Secretary of the Department.

JLH:MG

The meeting on April 3 is open to members as well as non-members. It is confidently expected that a crowded house will welcome Mr. Cowden.

Other association news released today gives the present membership total as 234, including 65 new members. This, as President Winne pointed out, is a rapid growth as compared to other years. Mr. Winne said in part, "That when the sporting public fully realizes that this association is attempting a definite, well-balanced program of fish and game re-stocking in the local streams and fields, and not just running a club for the sake of having a club, there will be no limits to what it can accomplish. With 500 members this year the association can place 10,000 to 20,000 adult trout in the streams and operate a pheasant farm of 500 birds. That is our goal for 1935 and I ardently hope the sportsmen of this section will get behind this association."

Among other articles in the association's quarterly bulletin, "Bag and Creel," issued this week, comes the notice that new membership buttons are on the way and will be here in time for distribution at the meeting April 3. These buttons are of a more practical type, easily attached to fishing coat or hat, and considerably less expensive than those purchased heretofore. This is in line with the policy of the officers and directors of the association to put the bulk of their funds into bettering the local fish and game supply. Other matters must be placed in a secondary position.

No Holiday.

Paris, March 29 (AP).—The Chamber of Deputies refused today to accede to the request of Premier Flanadin that it take a two-months' holiday, opponents arguing that the lawmakers should remain in session in view of the current critical European situation.

"TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION" FOR PAST 25 YEARS

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this voluntary letter from Mr. Loomis: "I have been troubled with constipation for the past 25 years. I tried practically every cathartic without results.

"Recently, I determined to give Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a fair trial. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but I believe it is an actual relief for chronic constipation."—Mr. Henry E. Loomis, 4 Washington Ave., Worcester, Mass.

"Due to insufficient 'bulk' in meals.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides 'bulk' to aid elimination. It also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

The 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is gentle—and safe for normal individuals. Often more effective than 'bulk' in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than potent medicines? Just eat two tablespoons daily. Chronic constipation, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor.

BARBARA BELL FASHION PATTERNS

Pattern No. 1624-B

Semi-Tailored Sports-Frock with Cape-Collar

The new semi-tailored clothes are fascinating in their simplicity. Without having flat, unbroken surfaces they manage their few seam-lines with such cleverness that literally plain frocks take on intriguingly sophisticated lines.

This little one-piece frock is typical. The neckline is finished with a modish cape widely proportioned so that it extends over the arms making sleeves unnecessary, though the pattern provides them.

The dress is made in one-piece, but suggests two. The skirt is plain in front and paneled in the back with side pleats giving hemline fullness.

Practically any type of smart daytime material of medium weight may be used in this dress—cotton, silk, synthetic, or wool.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1624-B is designed in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 (34) requires 2 1/2 yards of 35 inch material, or 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

Mandelbaum Bill Still In Committee

Albany, March 28 (Special).—Prediction has it that the Mandelbaum bill, to eliminate from taxation structures of the New York city water supply in Westchester and Ulster counties, has been killed in committee where it was sent several weeks ago, for the taxation and re-trenchment group have failed to report this measure out to the senate.

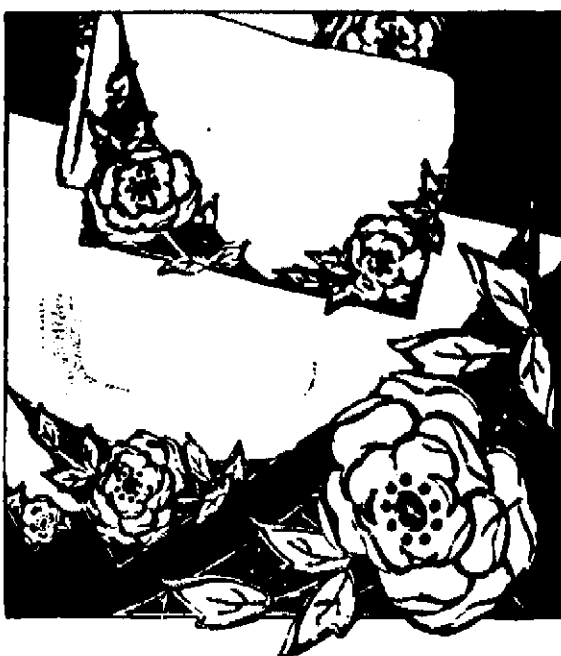

This committee has not to consider this and other bills, but no word has been announced as to the result of such a meeting. Many telegrams have been sent protesting this move that would ultimately cut the metropolitan water bill and burden counties and small communities with the need of securing additional revenues for their governmental operations.

Senator Wickes and Assemblyman Conway, Ulster county residents, are in accord with the Westchester legislators in opposition to such a measure should it come out of committee.

It seems ever that, with all these Thomas Howling around, no political philanthropist has yet offered every body a substantial part on full pay.

Pink Slip Publicity Considered Defeated

Washington, March 29 (AP).—Pink slip income tax publicity was considered as good as dead today after the Senate, by an overwhelming 53 to 16 vote, had passed the repeal bill which previously had swept through the House.

There was little doubt on Capitol Hill that President Roosevelt would sign the bill. First, however, the measure went back to the House because the Senate had tacked on an amendment permitting state and local tax officials to inspect the returns. No difficulty was anticipated in reaching a quick agreement about this change.

Therefore the little pink slips—on which tax payers wrote information about their 1934 incomes—were slated to go into the discard instead of being made available to public view.

Forty-three Democrats and 10 Republicans joined in reversing the stand for income tax publicity which the Senate has maintained for years. Senator La Follette (Prog.-Wis.) long an advocate of full publicity, was joined by five Republicans and 10 Democrats in opposition to repeal.

LENTEN SERVICES

There was a fairly good attendance at the Lenten service at the Reformed Church of the Comforter Thursday night. Dr. Chasey, superintendent of the Kingston M. E. district, preached the sermon. It was a very fine presentation of the theme, "Why, Jesus?" He gave several reasons why everyone should accept Christ as their Saviour, in a way that would convince any fair minded person.

Donald Clark, with his rich voice, sang beautifully the solo, "Cast Thy Burden", by Hamblen. The anthem by the choir and the congregational singing of the old, familiar songs led by Mr. Carey made a service that was not only pleasing but spiritually uplifting to all.

This evening the Rev. Russell S. Gaenzle, pastor of the Evangelical Church of the Redeemer, will preach on "God Consciousness". A solo will be sung by Douglas Kennedy. The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church will unite in this service. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this service.

Woman Is Executed For Husband's Murder

Montreal, March 29 (AP)—The hangman's noose decapitated Mrs. Thomasina Theolis Sarao, 46, today as she was executed for murdering her husband, according to a witness who attended.

Newspapermen were barred from the execution by the Quebec attorney-general's department.

A few minutes before Mrs. Sarao dropped through the trap, Leon Gagliardi, 30, and Angelo Donofrio, 19, were hanged on another scaffold for the same crime.

The trio was convicted by a court of king's bench jury of murdering the middle-aged street-cleaner for the sake of the $4,500 insurance on his life. Mrs. Sarao was in the plot but it was Gagliardi and Donofrio who beat Sarao to death with clubs in a field near Blue Bonnets race track in the north of the city last summer.

Mrs. Viovinna Theolis, 70, mother-in-law of Sarao, who also alleged to have been involved in the plot to kill Sarao. She pleaded to a manslaughter charge and was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

The triple execution today was the first mass execution here since Tony Frank, Louis Morel, Joe Serafini and Frank Gambino were hanged in October, 1924, for the murder of a bank messenger in the famous bank of Hochelaga hold-up in the spring of the same year.

Roadside Advertising Doomed in Quebec As Billboards Get Axe Under New Law

Roadside advertising is doomed along Quebec's 16,000 miles of improved highways as commercial signs and posters get the axe this year with enforcement of the famous anti-billboard law enacted by the Quebec government. The law, designed to halt destruction of the quaint French charm of the Quebec countryside by unsightly billboards, marks a major victory in the war to preserve North America's scenic beauty. Above, typical rural vista in Quebec, showing old-world chateaux and wayside shrines, unspoiled by highway signs. Lower left, illustrating how billboards disfigure countryside in states without anti-poster legislation. Lower right, old French roadside oven near Quebec City, a part of the rural charm Quebec seeks to preserve. Inset, the Hon. J. E. Perrault, Quebec Minister of Roads and sponsor of the anti-billboard law.

QUEBEC CITY, Que.—The fellow who wants to tell the world about his tavern, his garage service, hot dogs or lemon pop can do it in the advertising columns of the newspapers or leave the praises of his products unsung in this scenic Province this year.

The teeth, which the Quebec legislative assembly put into its famous anti-billboard law enacted two years ago, are taking their first bites now and unsightly road signs are feeling the official axe. The law gave owners of existing billboards until the spring of 1935 to remove them. Thus, henceforth, Quebec's more than 16,000 miles of improved roads, linking some of the most picturesque resorts on the American continent and penetrating thousands of square miles of primeval woodlands and mountainous countryside, are going to carry the automobilist "back to nature" in the literal sense of the word.

Aroused by an ever-spreading invasion of its rural French countryside by highway signboards and posters, which had become almost as numerous as those found about metropolitan centers of the United States, the Province needed little urging to act when the Hon. J. E. Perrault, Minister of Roads, assumed leadership and presented the anti-billboard bill to the legislature.

Under the law now effective, highway signs, when not completely abolished, are so restricted as to be unobjectionable. The Minister of Roads may prohibit, in such places as he may designate, all billboards and signs which may be seen from public highways. He can also remove any signs which in his opinion disfigure or obscure the scenery. Enforcement of the law marks the first major victory of anti-billboard campaigners on the American continent. Civic organizations and women's clubs in the United States long have warred unsuccessfully against unsightly roadside signs, but it has remained for Quebec to officially strike out at the highway advertising interests.

In the words of Minister Perrault, "Quebec feels it is little short of criminal to invest millions of dollars in scenic highways penetrating a country nine-tenths the size of all Europe and then obliterate the natural beauty and charm of the countryside with hot dog stands and garish billboards."

From Gaspé to the Gatineau River Valley and from Sherbrooke, Quebec City and Montreal to the Laurentian Mountains, old Dame Nature will green herself with special pride as summer comes to Quebec this year.

Princess Barbara Hides in Ship's Hold

New York, March 29 (AP)—H. H. the Princess Alexis Mdivani—that's the way her baggage is inscribed—rested in seclusion today after hiding in the hold of the liner Bremen and coming ashore via the crew's gangplank.

From here the princess—formerly Barbara Hutton, heiress to the Woolworth 5-and-10-cent fortune—goes to Reno to divorce her polo-playing prince.

She is staying at the Fifth avenue home of her father, Franklin Hutton, in a Long Island Railroad yard the Hutton private car was ready for her westward trip.

As far as could be learned, she did not plan to start today. Possibly tomorrow; possibly not.

Princess Mdivani did not wish to say anything about her divorce plans, and she successfully avoided saying it as she returned from Europe late yesterday.

Steamship officials, customs and immigration officers, ship's officers, forty pier police, servants and relatives cooperated to whisk her off the Bremen and into the waiting limousine which took her home.

A custom officer ten went into the hold of the huge ship, where she was hidden from the public gaze in a crew cabin, and completed the necessary papers.

The heiress to some $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 started her preparations Wednesday night, when she moved from her row of cabins on A deck. First she went to B deck, then into the hold, where she spent the night.

While newspapermen gathered outside the cabins on A deck, servants and James Woolworth Donahue, her cousin and companion on the home-ward trip, bobbed in and out, all day.

Passengers announced she had left the ship on the health inspector's boat and when the cabin finally was opened they revealed only Donahue and his dog, a maid, a masseuse, the chauffeur and his wife, 15 trunks and 13 bags.

The heiress and her dog, "Fire and Ice," were gone.

The princess, under the guard of an official, had hurried down the crew's gangplank to the pier a few minutes after the ship docked. A car was waiting to drive her home.

After she was safely within the walls of her home, Attorney Millard F. Tompkins, Jr., who had come down the pier to meet her, gave out this statement:

"Princess Mdivani has requested me to state that she and her husband have separated and that she is here for the purpose of consulting my firm with respect to obtaining a divorce. She prefers not to make any statement at this time."

Roosevelt Fishes, Staff Takes Holiday

Miami, Fla., March 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt looked forward today to some more fishing in the waters off the northern coast of Cuba.

The yacht Nourmahal carrying the sun-burned president was in the vicinity of Great Inagua Island off the northeastern tip of Cuba.

A brief report last night from the yacht told of the arrival of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, from Puerto Rico, by regular Pan American plane and of a day of fishing by the presidential party off Cayo Lobos.

Details of the first day's fishing attempts were unrecorded.

Apparently satisfied with the condition of his secretary and friend, Louis M. Howe, who is ill in the White House, and with the progress in work at Washington, Mr. Roosevelt is circling southern waters on a schedule expected to keep him at sea most of next week and possibly until early the following week.

Through wireless the president maintained contact with temporary headquarters established here by Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary.

While the president fished, the staff of the temporary offices took time off today to fly to Key West.

The group was invited to inspect the island city by the FERA administration, which is reconstituting it. From there a trip was planned to old Fort Jefferson on dry Tortugas.
